I understand, but that is all outside the purview of this discussion. The fact remains the repairs still need to be done before it can be rented again. The Fire Certificate of Occupancy will remain revoked, and once Ms. Kennedy leaves the property you will have to work your Fire Inspector to have it reinstated.

It looks like vacate orders went out on 7/13 with a reinspection of 7/25 at 3:30.

Thanks,
Joanna

Hi Joanna,
Thank you very much for your response. Please, I will also provide phone numbers of the numerous contractors that came to the building to carry out repairs as required by the City safety and fire inspectors for all damages in the home, but Ms. Kennedy refused to give them access to her apartment and has repeatedly locked the storm door that gives access to the upper unit and the basement.

Thank you

Sincerely
Assumpta Sirri

I will attach these to the record, though I want to be clear that they won't have any bearing on Ms. Moermond's recommendation the property be vacated by July 21.

Thanks,
Joanna

Hi Joanna,
Please, find some evidence to prove that the home was in good shape and in great living condition at the time when my tenant. moved in on August 7th 2021. Thanks
