Subject: Really!

The St. Paul city council has no business wasting tax payer money with symbolic ridiculous resolutions. It is exactly these kind of actions that has propelled Donald Trump to the top of the presidential race. He makes his sound bite, owns it, later explains it and gets people talking about legitimate problems that need to be addressed. People are tired with politics as usual and professional politicians in general. Please just do the work of the people and at least pretend to be good stewards of their tax monies. The voters will decide whether Trump is the correct candidate without your help.
