We'll be discussing this 1/8. Basically, there were 2 parts to the order: 1 about the location of the vehicles and 2 about running an illegal car repair which the inspector determined was happening because vehicles were not in his name at the time of inspection. I wanted to give him a chance to show he owned them at the time. If he can't, he can't. The other violation, the parking location, is still problematic, regardless.

Mai Vang this is Shan fritz so I stopped at the dmv and they are not allowed to release the information that I'm requesting. The documents for the vehicles in question were in my file cabinet up stairs in the garage and suffered water damage also the titles besides the boat ones. Is there another way I can try to make you happy?
