Katie,

I was in the process of getting the home ready for inspection to satisfy the Certificate of Occupancy issue and in the process the home has sold. The new owner is going to be rehabbing for resale and will be pulling all permits which will allow for the city inspectors to inspect and approve.

While I was given until Oct 1 to get the fire inspector in for inspection I no long have ownership right or access to the home and cannot assist in gaining access.

Just wanted to get this information over to your unit so you can note that Marjorie Kisch is no longer the legal owner of the home.

Thank you

John Kisch

Katie,

I will make it work. You should have the paperwork today. I sent it certified mail to the office listed on the appeal form. I assume the code enforcement agent will be at this hearing as will the fire inspector so I can end this harassment in one visit rather than multiple visits.

Thank you
