LEGISLATIVE HEARING DISCUSSION ITEM

- 40 RLH SAO 22-52 Appeal of Greg Trentman and Rachel Goligoski to a Summary Abatement Order at 1317 SELBY AVENUE.

Appellants given until July 1, 2023 to come into compliance.

Also in attendance: Greg Trentman, appellant

Marcia Moermond, Legislative Hearing Officer: An order was issued for this property on November 4 to remove a library box on a boulevard. The post is actually cemented into the ground. Our right of way code states there are restrictions on things that can be placed in the city's right of way. This is considered an obstruction, per city code, as it includes posts and building materials. 10 days were given, and the appeal was filed on the deadline of November 14. Legislative Hearings were held on December 13 and February 21. In the December 13 hearing we discussed why it was considered a violation. The appellant asked to know the differences between this and trees or light posts in the right of way, and we discussed those differences and whether this could be allowed in the future. We gave a lot of time between that and the next hearing to give the appellant time to apply to Public Works for a waiver to encroach into the public right of way, and provided the information to do so. Public Works has a $250 filing for that, and they did indicate to me that one thing they consider is whether it can be accommodated on the private property side. With this property, could the box be installed inside the retaining wall? Yes it could, the height would be higher. There was no appeal filed with public works or ask to waive their appeal fee. There was a discussion later in hearing about whether the installation could be moved to another property and have it be on their property. Regarding moving it to their own private property, the appellant indicated that its current location was wheelchair accessible in their view, and that putting it on top of the retaining wall was not wheelchair accessible. I am not sure if the mulch and setback makes either wheelchair accessible. My recommendation is to allow an extension to July 1 for removal, to give additional time for relocation on the appellant's property or another property.

Council President Brendmoen: So the extension is to give time for the snow to thaw and potentially relocate the box?

Moermond: Yes. It is currently underneath a snow bank and a layer of frost. We need a thaw before this can be moved.

Councilmember Jalali: I am generally supportive of what you are proposing. I know it feels frustrating as the appellant in this situation, and I am going to reach out to Little Free Library to see if they can do more work on community education. I know it's not one of their boxes, but maybe they can help. We had a similar situation in my ward.

Moermond: The Little Free Library website does have good resources for helping people install boxes.

Trentman: My partner was pretty disappointed by this situation and could not be here, so I will speak on her behalf as well. First, this land does not rightfully belong to the City or us. It's stolen from the Dakotas. We were fortunate enough to purchase this property, and we are the current stewards. We have completely landscaped our yard and boulevard garden and received recognition for it. Now we have received an order to remove it. It was constructed during the COVID lockdown as a food pantry, place to leave change for the nearby bus stop, and for books. It is one of the things that make a block feel like a community. It is the only one on the north side of Selby for 20 blocks before hitting the cathedral. Residents are encouraged to plant trees on boulevards, however these same trees are more invasive than this box. Why not move it? We realized it would not be accessible to wheelchairs on top of the retaining wall. The Little Free Library site recommends not putting boxes on boulevards, but they have expressed interest in working on language to allow it in city code when the private property is not an option. We would support this.

Councilmember Tolbert: Is your plan to remove it when the ground thaws or will the city have to remove it?

Trentman: We can remove it.

Councilmember Yang: I'm curious about what exceptions can be made. I think we could see this come up again and we should see what we can do.

Brendmoen: This has come before us before, but more often than not they are on private property. This is about access to what's under the boulevard and being able to store snow and not being able to remove private property from the public right of way if work needed to be done. The law is very clear, though it may not be intuitive. The Little Free Library resources is very clear about where they can be, with the exception made for when they cannot be accommodated on private property. This is not a situation like that. The question is: do we want to have a conversation with public works about private structures in the public right of way, and opening up that Pandora's Box?

Councilmember Prince: Did you not apply to Public Works for an encroachment permit because of the $250 cost, and instead are asking us to change ordinance without the fee?

Trentman: I did not think I should have to pay $250 for an outlier. I don't see why we can't have language to address this in the future. The City won't be overwhelmed by them. This was just a principled decision. I didn't want to pay when others can't afford to.

Brendmoen: It is also that you need to prove to Public Works that the use cannot be accommodated on private property.

Prince: It seems to me that we have a process for this.

Brendmoen: Just to clarify, this is about accommodation on private property and not about utilities, when applying for an encroachment permit?

Moermond: One of the criteria Public Works uses is whether the use can be accommodated on private property, and I told the appellant that. I don't know if they have a process to waive the fee. I know that for legislative hearings we waive the fee sometimes based on need. The fee is an unknown to me.

Prince: What I hear from the appellant is that putting it on their property is not wheelchair accessible. Years ago I worked on boulevard gardens, so this ordinance can be amended. I would be interested in looking into that. Encroachment permits can be applied for in a number of cases. I think this is reasonable.

Brendmoen: As Jalali mentioned, there is never ill intent with these.

Councilmember Yang moved to close the public hearing. Motion approved 6-0.

Yang: Thank you, Greg, for being intentional and rooting your approach in equity.

Councilmember Noecker: Thank you for putting accessibility first. There is an interest in exploring a change in the future. It is possible that even if we adopt this resolution, given the July 1 deadline we could see a change in ordinance before that compliance date. This decision does not preclude that.

Brendmoen moved approval.
