On 8/22/2014 I called the City at this number 651-266-8989 to report a mattress in the alley. The mattress has been in the alley for about a week. It was blocking traffic. The lady on the other end told me that she will forward my concern to code enforcement.

When I reported the issue I was trying to be a good citizen.

On September 2, 2014 I received a letter from Code Enforcement with a Summary Abatement Order saying I have to remove the mattress or I pay a fine. Its not my trash and I was trying to do the right thing.

I live part time in Saint Paul. Currently I am in Florida until November. I cannot be at the Appeal Process if it's schedule before that. If the City can accommodate and schedule it for the second week of November it would be helpful. If not then let this letter be my appeal.

As part of the process I would like to make this statement. It seems that the city has a lot of these issues. Many times it's the rental properties and their tenants leaving large trash items behind when they move. Many times they just take the trash down the road or across the alley and make it someone else problem. Why don't the City charge a small fee on renters/rental properties and use that money to collect the trash they leave behind? It is not fair to the responsible residents when they have to deal with the trash and the City at the same time. If the City does not try to make it right then many good residents will turn away and not be part of the solution, like reporting problems in neighborhood. Why report it, when the City will just make you pay for it.
