Rain doesn't dampen spirits

Even though rain forced the safety picnic indoors, it didn't dampen anyone's spirits. Greg Gauster, Walter O'Neal, George Moy, and Tyrone Vidal hang out after enjoying the burgers and hot dogs served by members of the Employee Engagement Committee. The May 8 event brought employees from different divisions together and allowed time to focus on safety while driving. This included an overview of the new hands-free phone law going into effect on August 1. While SPRWS and the city already have a cell phone policy prohibiting the use of a phone while driving, the new law imposes monetary fines.

Volunteer for a Habitat for Humanity build on June 6

Interested in providing quality homes for residents in Saint Paul? You can get in on a construction build for Habitat for Humanity, working alongside your co-workers and learning hands-on skills.

Water, DSI, HR, and the mayor's office are working together on Thursday, June 6 from 8:30 - 4 p.m.

Volunteering for this project is not work-related. To participate, please talk to your supervisor and work out your time out of the office with vacation, comp time, or flex time before signing up.

For more information on this year's build at 722 LaFond Ave., contact Hayley Heidelberg at 266-6309 or email her at hayley.heidelberg@ci.stpaul.mn.us.
