Applicant Felicia Ortega, said event sponsor Radio Rey was new to the neighborhood and was trying to bring their audience into the District Del Sol and have a grand opening for the station. 26 AHPC 13-3

Public hearing to consider the appeal of Dan Gleeson to a decision of the Heritage Preservation Commission denying an illuminated aluminum sign at the upper portion of the east elevation at 255 East Sixth Street.

Bill Dermody, Planning and Economic development (PED) and Heritage Preservation Commission (HPC) staff, gave a staff report on the application and appeal. He displayed an aerial photograph of the area and a rendering of the proposed sign. He said the building itself was not historic but was in a historic area. He read from Guideline 3C, which was finding 4 and the basis for denial of the application. He said PED suggested a smaller, lower sign, and took issue with the appellant's claim that the attachment could only be done safely as proposed. He said PED welcomed the opportunity to work with appellant on an alternate attachment.

In support of the appellant:

Chuck Repke (154 W. Winifred) appeared representing building owner Dave Brooks and architect Dan Gleason. He said the HPC erred in finding that a sign on the uppermost portion of the facade wall was in violation of the guideline that prohibited any structure above the uppermost portion of the facade. He read an introductory paragraph from the HPC guidelines stating that the purpose of the guidelines was to provide assurance to property owners that decisions would be based on clear standards and not on the tastes of HPC members. He displayed photographs of other downtown buildings with signs on and above the cornice line or uppermost portion of the building. He referred to HPC meeting minutes dealing with the intent of the guidelines as opposed to the words, and said he hadn't been able to find anything in the guidelines discouraging signage at the top of buildings or encouraging signage at pedestrian level. He said the guidelines were clear, and the proposed sign was not above the cornice line or uppermost portion of the facade wall. He introduced Tim George, who had invested in the building based on the assurances of the guideline.

Councilmember Thune asked Mr. Repke for clarification of how the HPC erred. Mr. Repke said the guideline prohibited signage above the cornice line.

Tim George, business owner of A'Bulae at 235 6th Street East, asked for the Council's support and acceptance of the proposed sign. He said when his lease expired in 2008, an offer from building owner Dave Brooks led to him making a long term commitment to keep and grow the business in St. Paul, and the agreement included the ability to name the building the A'Bulae Center. He said the building included parking and 60,000 square feet of corporate space, 30,000 of which he now occupied and 30,000 he had made a commitment to develop. He said he had a sign consultant and architect help with the design of the sign and they believed it was befitting a premiere events center. He said to date he had hired 40+ people and 150+ contractors, had 94 events booked, and expected to bring 50,000 people into the Lowertown area in the coming months and more than 250,000 by the end of 2014. In response to a question from Councilmember Thune he said the height of the sign was needed for visibility. Councilmember Thune questioned the need for visibility at a time when so many people use Google maps and other electronic means of navigation.

David Brooks, building owner, asked that the Council allow the business owner to name the building.

Mr. Repke reiterated that guidelines were clear and the public should be able to trust that they were followed.

Councilmember Thune moved to close the public hearing. Yeas - 7 Nays - 0

Councilmember Stark said there seemed to be a disconnect between the guidelines and the HPC decision, and he asked staff for clarification. Mr. Dermody said the decision went beyond the exact words to the intent, which was to foster pedestrian rather than freeway oriented signs. Councilmember Thune asked whether that language appeared elsewhere in the guidelines. Mr. Dermody said it did not.

Council President Lantry said her impression was that intent was to prohibit signs that extended above and drew attention away from the building. She asked what defined the upper portion of the building and what would make the sign comply.

Amy Spong, PED and HPC staff, said the building did not have a cornice, and the HPC had always interpreted the guideline to be that a sign couldn't be above the cornice line or at the uppermost portion. She said the uppermost portion had never been defined, and the HPC looked at the size, location, and attachment of the sign.

Council President Lantry repeated her question about how the sign could be made to comply without changing the size. Ms. Spong said they encouraged people to put signs at storefront level or just above. Council President Lantry asked whether that was the case even if the business was above street level. Ms. Spong cited examples in which the height of a sign did not correspond to the location of the business.

Councilmember Thune said this was not a historic building, and because it was an event center, with people coming in from long distances, visibility was important. He said it was not garish and he questioned whether it would detract from the historic district. He said he hated to go against an HPC decision but there was a disconnect. He suggested that there could be discussions between the Council and the HPC about interpretation of the guideline. He moved to grant appeal on the grounds that the sign was below cornice and it was not a historic building.

Councilmember Carter said he supported Councilmember Thune's motion. He said he respected the work of the HPC but wasn't comfortable supporting a decision that was so far from what was written in the guidelines.

Councilmember Bostrom noted the positive change in the building over the last couple of years. He said a pedestrian level sign wouldn't be as effective given the location of the building. He applauded the building owner and developer for everything that had been accomplished.

Councilmember Stark said the guideline was clear, and additional discussions were needed about the issue of language versus intent.

Council President Lantry agreed but stressed that buildings in the district were generally expected to comply with the guidelines.

- 27 RES PH 13-117 Approving the application, with conditions, of the Metropolitan Council for a sound level variance for the installation of an overhead cantenary (power) system along the Central Corridor Light Rail line from Emerald Street, along University Avenue West, Robert Street, 12th Street East, Cedar Street, and 4th Street East, ending at Broadway Street; from 10:00 p.m. to 7:00 a.m., Monday through Friday from June 5, 2013 through December 5, 2013.

In opposition:

Justin Bush (308 Prince Street) expressed frustration about ongoing problems with noise and other disruptions related to development in Lowertown. He suggested an alternative schedule to minimize disruptions in residential areas. He asked the Council to stand up for the residents as well as business owners.

Julie Green (815 Aurora Avenue) said they were told last year that this wouldn't happen again. She said she didn't understand why the work couldn't be done during the day, and she said there should be a penalty for violations and the money should be put back into the community.

Councilmember Tolbert asked whether there were penalties. Council President Lantry read from the resolution that possible penalties included denial of future variance requests and criminal citation.

In support:

Kevin Ryan, Metropolitan Council manager of construction for the Central Corridor project, said this work was different from what they had been doing the previous two years. He said it involved driving down the guideway and hanging wire and there'd be very little noise. He said they probably wouldn't need a variance but had applied just in case. Council President Lantry suggested that Mr. Ryan give his cell phone number to Mr. Bush and Ms. Green. Mr. Ryan said he would.

Councilmember Stark asked why the work couldn't be done during the day. Mr. Ryan said they would be working two shifts. He said they could be done by August 1, and Lowertown could be removed from the request for night work.

Councilmember Carter noted language in the resolution specifically restricting the type of work of work that could be done.

Council President Lantry said amending the resolution to accurately reflect the variance needed might reassure the neighbors. Councilmember Carter agreed that there seemed to be a disconnect between the variance request and the work schedule being described.

Mr. Ryan said they would like the variance as written but he was trying to compromise to address the concerns raised by Mr. Bush.

Councilmember Bostrom clarified that night work wasn't necessary for the Lowertown portion, but two shifts were needed on University Avenue.

Councilmember Stark asked whether it all could be done by August 1. Mr. Ryan said it could. Councilmember Stark suggested a change in wording to remove Lowertown from the request and to change the ending date to August 1.

Councilmember Thune reiterated that the work being done wouldn't be noisy, but said he was fine with putting in the language suggested.

Mr. Ryan said Lowertown residents had put up with more than anyone had anticipated and were much closer to the work than those along University Avenue. He said losing night work on that five block stretch wouldn't kill the project.

Councilmember Thune moved the amendment suggested by Councilmember Stark.

Councilmember Carter asked when the night work would start. Mr. Ryan said they were already working days and would start the night shift as soon as they had the variance.

Councilmember Carter noted that there were decibel limits and notification requirements for other noise variances, and he asked for a one or two week layover to ask staff to come back with specific decibel limits from a specific number of feet away.

Council President Lantry said it wasn't her intention to hold things up and she felt two weeks was too long. Councilmember Bostrom said the contractor might have people and materials lined up.

Councilmember Carter asked Mr. Ryan whether a one-week layover would be a problem. Mr. Ryan said they would prefer to get going.

Mark Kaisersatt, Department of Safety and Inspections, said decibel levels were challenging for construction projects, and noise level limitations were addressed in other ways.

Councilmember Brendmoen said Councilmember Stark's amendment addressed both neighbors' concerns, and the resolution already restricted loud activity at night. She questioned the need for a layover.

Councilmember Carter said a clear indication was needed as to whether expectations were being met.

Councilmember Thune said the Council should not hold things up; he reiterated that this was stringing wire.

Councilmember Carter reiterated his desire to set specific expectations, and said seven days shouldn't make a difference, and day time work could continue.

Council President Lantry said she would speak against a layover because it wasn't clear what would be accomplished.

Councilmember Carter moved to lay the matter over for a week. Yeas - 2 Nays - 5 (Bostrom, Brendmoen, Lantry, Stark, Thune)

Councilmember Thune moved the amendment as suggested by Councilmember Stark. Councilmember Carter said the Council owed it to the neighbors along University Avenue as well as those in Lowertown to make sure the noise was monitored.

- 37 RES PH 13-121 Reciting a proposal for a Housing Finance Program for a multi-family rental housing development, giving preliminary approval to the project and the Program pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 462C, authorizing the Housing and Redevelopment Authority of the City of Saint Paul, Minnesota to issue housing revenue bonds and authorizing the preparation of necessary documents and materials in connection with said project and Program (Model Cities Project).

Councilmember Tolbert asked for a staff report.

Eduardo Barrera, Planning and Economic Development (PED), said the item provided preliminary approval for the financing. In response to additional questions from Councilmember Tolbert, he described the projects.

Patty Lilledahl, PED, said these were revenue bonds, with revenues from the properties paying for the debt service on the bonds, and the property would be paying real estate taxes. She said the financing would be coming before the HRA board once the deal was completed.

Councilmember Tolbert expressed concerns about authorizing a $9 million loan without more information. Council President Lantry reiterated that this was just giving preliminary approval, and nothing else could proceed without it. She said the project would come before the HRA later.

Councilmember Carter said Model Cities had been around a long time and this project had been a long time in the making. He asked whether the project had been discussed in the HRA. Ms. Lilledahl said she didn't think it had.

Council President Lantry clarified that voting for this item today didn't mean approving the project.

Councilmember Brendmoen said she agreed with Councilmember Tolbert regarding the need for more information. She said it seemed contradictory that nothing could proceed without the preliminary approval but the project was a long time in the making.

Councilmember Tolbert said this item and the next two were giving a lot of City money and support to items along the Light Rail Line, and while he understood the items were coming before the HRA, no one from PED had offered briefings. He said there were other great projects that also needed funding and support, and this shouldn't just be rubber-stamped by the Council.

Councilmember Stark said he supported the asking of the question. He said he'd had to dig into resolution, and the Council generally should be getting more information about these projects sooner. Council President Lantry said these items usually came before the HRA first, and that change in timing was probably contributing to the confusion. She said she had been offered a briefing prior to the next week's HRA meeting.

Councilmember Bostrom repeated the concerns about needing more background information, and said sometimes these things became a foregone conclusion. He moved a one week layover. Councilmember Carter questioned laying over the preliminary approval.

Ms. Lilledahl reviewed the two-step process of preliminary and final approval, and said HRA Commissioners were fully briefed at the time of final approval. In response to a question from Councilmember Tolbert she said these were conduit bonds with no obligation on the part of the City or taxpayers.

Council President Lantry provided further clarification of conduit bonds, and said she would not support a layover.

38 RES PH 13-122 Approving the establishment of the Hamline Station East Tax Increment Financing District and the tax increment financing plan therefor.

Patty Lilledahl, Planning and Economic Development, gave a staff report on the resolution. She described the project and said the item needed to be acted on that day for PPL to show City support for the MHFA application which was going to be made in June. She said the HRA board would be acting on the total financial package on June 12, and briefings would be offered to HRA commissioners before that time. She said the item currently being acted on was approval of a housing TIF district.

Councilmember Tolbert noted that the TIF proposal would start in 2016, and that the 10% cap for TIF was being approached. He asked whether this would prevent the City from doing other TIF projects in the meantime. Ms. Lilledahl said they had asked and the developer had agreed that the first increment be delayed to 2017, which addressed the informal 10% TIF policy. Councilmember Tolbert asked whether that would prevent the City from doing other TIF projects in 2017. Ms. Lilledahl said they would be in the 8% range in 2017, with this project being factored in, and the percentage would continue to drop in subsequent years.

Councilmember Stark said some large TIF districts were coming off-line in the next couple of years. Councilmember Tolbert reiterated his concerns about the availability of TIF funds for other projects given the rate they had been used during his time on the Council. Ms. Lilledahl said fund availability was closely monitored by staff. Councilmember Stark said the scale of the projects coming off-line were much bigger geographically than the ones approved over the past couple of years, resulting in a loosening up if the capacity.

Councilmember Tolbert questioned whether these were the right projects or the best use of TIF when billions of dollars had already been invested in what he felt would be a huge economic generator for the area. He again expressed concern about the availability of TIF for other projects in other areas that might need it more. Council President Lantry agreed that choices made now affected fund availability later but said there wasn't a better way to do it since the projects took so long.

Councilmember Tolbert asked why these projects needed TIF. Ms. Lilledahl said there was a gap between the costs involved in building the project and the amount the affordable housing could support in debt service, and the TIF helped fill the gap.

Councilmember Stark said a lot of resources did go into building or rehabbing affordable housing but he felt this was the right place for those dollars to be spent.

No one appeared in opposition; Councilmember Stark moved to close the public hearing and approve the resolution.

112 RLH VBR 13-21 Appeal of Lien Kim Dang to a Vacant Building Registration Requirement at 572 VAN BUREN AVENUE.

Legislative Hearing Officer Marcia Moermond said a six month waiver on the vacant building status had expired, and it was her understanding that the owner was working with an advisor on whether to proceed with the rehabilitation. She said there was a recent concern that the owner was trying to move back into the house, and there was a boarding order on the house. She recommended denying the appeal on the vacant building registration and requiring that the fee be paid.

In opposition:

Tong Nguyen appeared representing the property owner. He said she was on SSI and could not pay a lump sum, and was asking that the payments be spread.

Council President Lantry said if it wasn't paid it would go will go to assessment which was a payment plan in itself.

Legislative Hearing Officer Marcia Moermond said the appeal was of the vacant building registration and fee, and payment of the fee would allow permits to be pulled. She said the Council could deny the appeal but ask DSI to allow permits to be pulled for a period of time.

Councilmember Carter asked whether there had been a determination about the ability to complete the rehabilitation. Mr. Nguyen said a Code Compliance inspection had been completed, and he was trying to get help for the owner to clean up and work on the house.

Councilmember Carter moved to close the public hearing. Yeas - 7 Nays - 0

Councilmember Carter said the Council didn't have the ability to set a payment plan for the fee. He said if there was money for the rehab there should be sufficient resources to pay the assessment, and if there weren't sufficient resources to pay the fee there weren't adequate resources for the rehab. He moved to deny the appeal.

Ordering the rehabilitation or razing and removal of the structures at 1565 SEVENTH STREET EAST within fifteen (15) days after the June 5, 2013, City Council Public Hearing. (Public hearing held and closed June 5) (To be amended to rehab or remove within 180 days)

Legislative Hearing Officer Marcia Moermond said the property had been in the vacant buildings program for five years. She said neighbors had testified at the Legislative Hearing about ongoing problems, and said they had been maintaining the property. She reviewed the conditions set at the hearing, and said documents were dropped off that day. She said the finances, bids, and work plan seemed fine, but she would like a one week layover to allow DSI to review the materials submitted. She asked that the matter be referred back to Legislative Hearing on June 11, and to Council on June 19.

In opposition:

Property owner David Meyer (359 Michigan) said he was opposed to laying the matter over and would like a decision. He said he'd complied with the requests and it was a visually attractive property even though it had been sitting for a long time. He said it had been his understanding that as long as taxes and insurance were paid he was allowed to have the property sit, but he knew now that was incorrect. He said the property had not deteriorated in the five years, and the one neighbor who testified at Legislative Hearings didn't think it was right that the property should be vacant even though it was in good repair. He said many of the deficiencies had been addressed, and he would like a ruling so he could get started on the project.

Kathleen Herr said her father had purchased the house for her son, with the thought that he would live there after graduating from college. She said it was not her father's intention to make a million dollars or be a slum lord. She said her father had been trying as hard as he could to fix the property up since he'd received notice that he had to do so.

Mr. Meyer said he just wanted to finish the project but wasn't always sure what was being asked of him, and the inspectors weren't helpful.

Councilmember Thune moved to close the public hearing. Yeas - 6 Nays - 0 (Bostrom not present for vote)

Council President Lantry confirmed with Ms. Moermond that the performance bond had been paid. She said the request to lay the matter over for two weeks was reasonable given that the requested materials were submitted so late.

Councilmember Brendmoen said it appeared the appellant was on the right track, and the two weeks was an opportunity to ensure they continued to move forward, as opposed to an opportunity to derail them.

Councilmember Thune moved to lay the matter over to the 3:30 portion of the June 19 meeting.

Public hearing held and closed. Referred to June 11 Legislative Hearings, and laid over June 19 City Council.

Legislative Hearing Officer Marcia Moermond said conditions set in Legislative Hearings were a shortened redemption period, a Code Compliance inspection, and payment of the performance bond. She said the performance bond had not been paid and the inspection had not been scheduled, and her recommendation was to order the structure removed within 15 days with no option for repair.

In opposition:

Gary Evers, foreclosure counsel for US Bank, said the bank would take possession in three weeks and could not proceed with anything until that time. He said US Bank was requesting an extension to after July 15 so the bank could take ownership and make a determination as to what they wanted to do. He said the bank had already invested almost $10,000 in the property including foreclosure-related costs and property taxes, and it didn't make sense for the building to be torn down a week before they took possession.

Council President Lantry said costs related to the foreclosure were not the fault of the City. She said she was not in favor of tearing down houses, and would grant three weeks until June 26 for all of the conditions to be met. Mr. Evers said he felt it was unreasonable to expect the bank to meet all of the conditions on the day they took possession. Council President Lantry said she wanted to create a sense of urgency for the bank, and they could request more time from Ms. Moermond if they needed to.

Councilmember Carter asked how long the property had been vacant. Ms. Moermond said the property had been vacant since January of 2012 and there had been nine summary abatements and work orders during that time. Mr. Evers reiterated that the bank did not own the property and could not address those issues.

Council President Lantry moved to close the public hearing and lay the matter over to June 26.

Legislative Hearing Officer Marcia Moermond said the situation involved abandoned vehicles and overflowing garbage, and there was a dispute between the property owners. In response to a question from Council President Lantry, she clarified that the snow removal and clean-up assessments were being considered together. She recommended approving the assessment without reduction.

Councilmember Stark asked Ms. Moermond why she was not recommending a reduction in this case. Ms. Moermond said the snow wasn't addressed as thoroughly and the property was generally not maintained to the same standard as the previous two. Council President Lantry said the photographs showed the previous addresses were partly shoveled by the property owner.

In opposition:

Property owner Al Nadimi (1744 University Avenue) showed photograph of the property. He said they'd had a contract with a garbage company since 2012; he displayed a bill. He said the neighbors used his dumpster rather than their own. He said they hadn't done anything wrong and the charges were way too high.

Legislative Hearing Officer Marcia Moermond said the conditions outlined in the Legislative Hearing were not met, and her recommendation was to order removal within 15 days. She said the attorney representing the bank was present to testify.

Council President Lantry noted that the building had been vacant since November 23, 2011. Ms. Moermond said there had been six summary abatement orders and work orders at the property.

In opposition:

Michael Schleisman, representing Bank of America (55 East Fifth St. Suite 800), said the Code Compliance inspection had been scheduled the day before and they were asking for asking for the demolition action to be suspended or canceled. He said his client was working to meet the conditions set at the May 28 hearing.

Council President Lantry said minutes indicated that the June 4 Legislative Hearing was a "no-show." Ms. Moermond said no one appeared at the original hearing on May 14, and the hearing was rescheduled to May 23 to allow for testimony. Council President Lantry said it was rescheduled again to June 4.

Mr. Schleisman said the missed May 14 hearing was an oversight on the part of his client, but they had proceeded aggressively as soon as they'd discovered it. He said he did appear on May 28. He said they would like time to have the inspection done and to review the report.

Council President Lantry asked how much time was needed. Mr. Schleisman asked for 30 days.

Council President Lantry said she would ask for a layover to June 26. Mr. Schleisman asked what the typical time frame was for a Code Compliance report. Ms. Moermond said the time frame to process a Code Compliance report was one to three weeks, but many contractors would prepare construction statements which were best guesses of what was required for code compliance. She said a work plan could be developed, the performance bond paid, and financing documented pending completion of the Code Compliance inspection.

Council President Lantry moved to close the public hearing and lay the matter over to June 26.

Council Meeting Information

The City Council is paperless which saves the environment and reduces expenses. The agendas and Council files are all available on the Web (see below). Councilmembers use iPads to review the files during the meeting. Using the iPad greatly reduces costs since most agendas, including the documents attached to files, are over 1000 pages when printed.

Web

Meetings are available on the Council's website. Email notification and web feeds (RSS) of newly released Minutes, Agendas and Meetings are available by subscription. Please visit www.stpaul.gov/council for meeting videos and updated copies of the Agendas, Minutes and supporting documents.

Cable

Meetings are live on St Paul Channel 18 and replayed on: Thursdays at 5:30 p.m., Saturdays at 12:30 p.m., and Sundays at 1:00 p.m. (Subject to change)
