Krista Evans (1953 Jefferson Avenue) said a number of houses in the neighborhood had been torn almost all the way down and reconstructed, and it was degrading the character of the neighborhood and creating safety concerns. She said she appreciated the steps being taken with this ordinance but would like to see more, as well as some enforcement tools.

Kathleen Kelso (2155 Jefferson Avenue) said she lived a few houses down from a newly constructed home which took up nearly the entire lot and had been standing empty for four months because it was priced at over $600,000. She said the yard had become a bog. She said the small house next door to her was due to be torn down and she would be experiencing the same thing again. She said she appreciated the efforts but would also like to see more teeth. She said it would be helpful for the whole City if there were a housing policy to manage housing stock needs. She said she had addressed the Council previously in her capacity as volunteer Chair of the St. Paul Advisory Committee on Aging regarding the need for housing throughout the City for elders. She stressed the importance of providing affordable housing for all ages and of preserving and maintaining housing stock and neighborhood character.

23 Ord 14-34

Amending Chapter 324 of the Saint Paul Legislative Code pertaining to single cigar packaging regulation.

Council President Lantry said all correspondence received was in the public record and viewable by Council members.

In opposition:

Steven Rush (4567 American Boulevard W., Bloomington), Director of Government Relations for Holiday Companies, requested a dialogue regarding youth access to tobacco products and said Holiday agreed that underage people should not have access to tobacco through their retail stores. He said Holiday had a very strict compliance policy, an extensive training program and stringent standards, provided internal compliance checks, and contracted with a third party to run compliance checks. He said they had a good compliance record. He said they were concerned that the ordinance would cause them to have to remove 70 categories of cigar products which would result in people going elsewhere for cigars and other items. He said a recently passed ordinance in Brooklyn Center had resulted in a drop in cigar sales there and movement of sales to other areas. He said the ordinance would harm the honest retailers in St. Paul, and he requested a dialogue to work towards a mutually agreeable solution.

Abdalla Tobasi (809 Selby Avenue) said he owned and operated two stores in St. Paul. He said he did not sell tobacco to minors, and the ordinance would drive business away from St. Paul to neighboring suburbs. He said he would have no objection if it were a statewide ban.

Thomas Briant (Eden Prairie), Executive Director of the National of Tobacco Outlets, echoed the request for a dialogue about underage use of tobacco products and other measures that could be taken short of the proposed ordinance. He said two federal compliance check programs had reported high compliance in Minnesota, especially in St. Paul; he cited statistics. He said the proposed ordinance would prohibit the sale of 50 to 70 cigar products, driving sales to the next city and penalizing retailers who did not sell to minors. He said statistics had shown that most minors obtained their tobacco products from other sources, such as family and friends, and he asked again for a dialogue to address the real issue of keeping tobacco away from minors.

In support:

Jack McNaney (1988 Bayard Avenue) spoke about the dangers of tobacco products to young people, and about the way the packaging, flavors, and pricing made the products appealing to young people.

Dr. Lisa Mattson (12920 32nd Avenue N. Plymouth) spoke about her experience with patients who were suffering from the effects of tobacco addiction and who wished they had never started. She said cigars had much more nicotine than cigarettes. She asked Council to take bold action to protect young people, and said research had shown that increasing the price did deter young people from purchasing tobacco products.

A'reaonniana Rease (643 Linden Street) voiced her support for making cigarillos and cigars less accessible to minors.

Lisa Hoogheem (219 Robie Street) said she worried about her elementary-aged boys becoming addicted to tobacco. She said the products seemed to be targeted to boys, and the low price made them too accessible. She said the products were sometimes used for smoking marijuana.

Ploua Yang (942 Hawthorne Avenue E.) showed photos of cigar ads directed towards young people, and said the low price made the products more appealing to young people.

Kenyan Green (297 Western Avenue) said he could walk a few feet from his front steps and see cigarillo wrappers, most likely left by young people. He said it was important to pass this law so kids and young people would not have access to these products which were sometimes used to smoke marijuana.

Manny Hernadez (1521 Westminster), representing a Latino after-school program serving Johnson, Harding and Henry Sibley High Schools, said they supported the ordinance because it supported healthy tobacco-free living for all young people.

Jeane Weigum (1647 Laurel Avenue S.), Association for Nonsmokers, spoke in support of ordinance and said her organization would help with enforcement.

Patrick Stieg (4079 W. 131st St., Savage), Minnesota Cancer Alliance, said he supported the ordinance because it would reduce youth tobacco use and reduce cancer in Minnesota.

Catrice Champion (5 Acker Street W.) representing Mad Dads, said they supported the ordinance and believed in keeping young people free from addictions.

Molly Moilanen (8117 W. 96th Street, Bloomington), Clear Way Minnesota, said they supported the ordinance because price was king when it came to reducing tobacco use, especially among kids.

Bob Moffitt (490 Concordia Avenue), American Lung Association, expressed strong support.

Damone V. Presley (544 University Avenue), Director of Vision in Living Life "Change is Possible," asked for the Council's support.

Vaughn Larry (519 Central Avenue) Crime Prevention Coordinator for the Aurora St. Anthony Neighborhood Development Corporation, said they were aware of two stores that were still selling loosies and selling tobacco products to minors. He said it was a quality of life issue, and had to be addressed for the neighborhood's children.

Councilmember Thao moved to close the public hearing. Yeas - 7 Nays - 0

Councilmember Thao everyone for their testimony, and said it brought him great pride that people took the time to come and speak about what was good for the St. Paul and for St. Paul youth. He said he heard where the retailers are coming from and acknowledged that there was an enforcement issue, but said the underlying issue was that tobacco companies were marketing to young people, especially of color. He said the ordinance was good for our young people and community.

Public hearing held and closed; laid over to August 27 for final adoption

Yea: 7 - Councilmember Bostrom, Councilmember Brendmoen, City Council President Lantry, Councilmember Stark, Councilmember Thao, Councilmember Thune and Councilmember Tolbert

25 APC 14-3

Public hearing to consider the appeal of Pergola Management, LLC to a decision of the Planning Commission approving a conditional use permit for the reuse of a nonresidential structure for an office, with modification of the consent petition condition, at 390 - 394 Dayton Avenue.

Jamie Radel, Planner with the Department of Planning and Economic Development (PED), gave a staff report on the application and appeal.

Appellant:

Daniel Rosen (123 N. 3rd Street), representing Pergola Management, said they had a history and respect for the City staff, but in this case felt the City staff was fudging the law. He said Pergola was a respected company and were required to follow the law that was being waived in this case for the applicant. He disputed the Planning Commission's contention that the petition requirement was only to give notice, and said providing notice was a separate requirement and the petition served to document whether there was support from neighbors. He said the fact that nobody supported the petition was not a hardship but was opposition, and discarding requirements that were intended to serve a substitute for the full rezoning process was not acceptable. He said a couple of other things were fudged, including invoking a provision that applied only to buildings that were greater 9000 ft<sup>2</sup>, and calling the petition a special condition. He said Pergola was in a similar circumstance recently and was required to go through the complete rezoning process, including obtaining 65 signatures with no leeway. He said it was understandable that people wanted to support good causes, but Pergola had to follow the law and the applicant should too. He said City staff had, perhaps with good motivation, discarded the law.

Applicant:

Brian Alton (951 Grand Avenue), representing the Domestic Abuse Prevention Project, said the ordinance specifically permitted the Planning Commission to modify conditions. He said waiving the condition would not impair the intent and purpose of the special condition; was consistent with the health, morals, and general welfare of the community; and was consistent with the reasonable enjoyment of the adjacent property. He said there were multiple letters of support received, and testimony in support at the Zoning Committee hearing. He said Mr. Rosen was wrong in saying the building had to be more than 9000 ft<sup>2</sup>, and that churches and schools were also categories to which the ordinance provisions applied. He said the building was a school for many years and use by the St. Paul Domestic Abuse Intervention Project would be consistent with the prior use. He said the College of Visual Arts completely gutted and remodeled the property, including correcting something like 165 code violations, and it was no longer appropriate to be used as a residential structure.

Jim Rubenstein (150 S. 5th Street, Minneapolis), Chairman of the Board of the College of Visual Arts, said they needed the proceeds of the sale to meet obligations to staff and faculty, and it only made sense to continue to use the building as an office building as long as there was a responsible buyer.

Becky Richardson (117 Farrington), board member of the College of Visual Arts and of the neighborhood association, said the building had been on the market for over a year, and the College of Visual Arts would like to sell it to meet their obligations for staff severance and pension and student scholarships. She said her son worked in real estate development and had toured the building and told her converting it to a residential use wouldn't be financially feasible. She said the Ramsey Hill Association board had not voted on the project because there didn't seem to be any opposition in the neighborhood. She asked the Council deny the appeal.

Shelley Johnson Cline (1509 Marshall Avenue), Executive Director of the Domestic Abuse Intervention Project, said four of the fourteen people within the petition area readily signed it, three were out of town or unavailable. Two property owners, including the appellant, flatly refused to sign, and because they owned so much of the remaining property, the Domestic Abuse Intervention Project didn't feel it was worth continuing to try to get signatures. She said they got people to help them interpret the law and did not fudge anything.

Councilmember Thao moved to close the public hearing. Yeas - 7 Nays - 0

Councilmember Thao thanked both sides for their testimony. He said he didn't feel the appellant provided sufficient evidence to overturn the Zoning Committee's recommendation and the Planning Commission's determination.

Council President Lantry noted that the issue of whether it made good financial sense for the College of Visual Arts to receive financial gain from this was not part of the Council's decision.

- 37     RLH TA 14-391     Ratifying the Appealed Special Tax Assessment for Real Estate Project No. J1410A, Assessment No. 148532 at 581-583 CASE AVENUE.

Legislative Hearing Officer Marcia Moermond gave a staff report on the pre-authorized work order for a clean-up. She showed the video and a photograph of the clean-up. She recommended approval of the assessment.

In opposition:

Jane Hanson (581/583 Case), property manager for Turn-key properties, said she received notice on the 21st with a deadline of the 22nd and by the time she reached the inspector on the 22nd the items had already been picked up. She said her own contractor was scheduled to come later that same day. She said the City should not mail orders on Friday and expect compliance by Tuesday, and she suggested that maybe could be mailed.

Councilmember Bostrom asked Ms. Moermond if there was a reason for the quick turnaround. Ms. Moermond said that generally happened if there was decaying material, and she guessed the garbage cans were smelling.

Councilmember Bostrom moved to adopt Ms. Moermond's recommendation.

Councilmember Bostrom asked what a pre-authorized work order was. Ms. Moermond said a pre-authorized work order was sent at the same time as the Summary Abatement letter, and was used in the case of decaying garbage or an unlocked refrigerator.

56 RLH TA 14-389

Ratifying the Appealed Special Tax Assessment for Real Estate

Project No. J1410A, Assessment No. 148532 at 386 MAPLE STREET.

Legislative Hearing Officer Marcia Moermond gave a staff report on two summary abatement orders issued for a porch and shed. She said a second summary abatement order was issued because the shed was no longer secured when the porch was reinspected. She said the appellants said items of value were removed when the City removed the shed. She recommended approval of the assessment, and said there was a separate process for filing a claim for the loss of items.

Charmaine and Jeannette Jones (386 Maple Street) appeared. Charmaine Jones stated that the door to the shed was not open in the video shown at the Legislative Hearing. She said there was a snowstorm before the City tore the shed down on April 2, and they had thought they had until April 30 to remove it. She said the doors were frozen shut and couldn't have been open.

Ms. Moermond clarified that the deadline was April 11, and the shed was removed on the 14th.

Jeanette Jones said the original deadline was the 30th. She said she had spoken to Paula Seeley on the day the shed was removed, and Paula Seeley said she made a mistake and would try to help them have the assessment deleted. Jeanette Jones said the ceiling of the shed had caved in and it did need to be fixed or removed, but it could have been fixed. She said the foundation was strong.

Councilmember Brendmoen moved to close the public hearing. Yeas - 7 Nays - 0

Council President Lantry reviewed that on March 19 the inspector gave an April 30 deadline, and when the inspector came out on April 2 the deadline was changed to April 11 and the shed was removed on April 14.

Councilmember Stark asked Ms. Moermond what the worsening conditions were. Ms. Moermond said the roof was collapsing and the door was open.

Councilmember President Lantry said a photo from April 11 showed that the floor had collapsed, and in her own experience, once a metal shed started to collapse it couldn't be salvaged. She said enough time was given for compliance, and she suggest imposing the full amount of the assessment but spreading the payments over three years. She said there was a different process for claiming loss. She said it was clear from the pictures that the shed had been removed because the roof had collapsed.

Adopted as amended (assessment approved and payable over 3 years)

Legislative Hearing Officer Marcia Moermond gave a staff report on the appeal of the vacant building fee assessment. She said the work was not completed during the 90-day waiver period following a March 2013 fire, but all permits had now been closed except one $9000 building permit open. She recommended approving the fee. She noted that another vacant building fee assessment for the property was coming forward in two weeks and she would recommend deletion for that one.

Samson Mengesna (2039 Itasca Avenue) appeared on behalf of his mother. He said the $9,000 building permit was taken out by his father, who owned the house but did not live there. He said he had communicated with DSI and contractors about the situation and other problems he'd encountered. He said they had taken an additional permit out themselves because checks weren't being signed and they needed to get going on the work. He said everything was done, and he asked for a reduction, and said the process hadn't been easy or cheap.

Councilmember Tolbert moved to close the public hearing. Yeas - 7 Nays - 0

Councilmember Tolbert thanked Mr. Mengesna for his testimony. He said he appreciated the work on the house and to improve the neighborhood, but the City did incur costs related to monitoring vacant buildings. He said he would accept Ms. Moermond's recommendation but would vote to delete next assessment.

Council Meeting Information

The City Council is paperless which saves the environment and reduces expenses. The agendas and Council files are all available on the Web (see below). Councilmembers use iPads to review the files during the meeting. Using the iPad greatly reduces costs since most agendas, including the documents attached to files, are over 1000 pages when printed.

Web

Meetings are available on the Council's website. Email notification and web feeds (RSS) of newly released Minutes, Agendas and Meetings are available by subscription. Please visit www.stpaul.gov/council for meeting videos and updated copies of the Agendas, Minutes and supporting documents.

Meetings are live on St Paul Channel 18 and replayed on: Thursdays at 5:30 p.m., Saturdays at 12:30 p.m., and Sundays at 1:00 p.m. (Subject to change)
