

City Assessment: Request for Waiver

I respectfully ask that you consider the following as I ask for a waiver of recent property clean-up assessment fee:

1. I never received a letter from the city asking that I cut down a tree or greenery on my property.
 - a. I did not receive any verification of a letter being sent nor did I receive verification that a letter had been delivered to my house
 - b. When I spoke to Nate Edwards, he noted that the system of alerting homeowners about property violations was “developed for properties in Frog Town in which the properties have been abandoned” and likely is not always effective in alerting homeowners who live on their properties when problems are noted.

2. After the letter was purportedly sent to me, no alternative means of communicating with me were attempted.
 - a. I heard from several city employees (including Nate Edwards and Lisa Martin) that numerous visits to my property had occurred over the course of the summer to inspect the tree growth and take photographs of the site. At no time was an attempt to contact me made, either by dropping off a second copy of the letter, knocking on my door or contacting me by phone.
 - b. I actually saw workers in the street inspecting my trees on July 8. However since there had been a storm in the City resulting in my neighborhood being without power for 3 days, I assumed the workers were from Xcel Energy, inspecting the wires. Had I known that these were City workers, I would have reached out to them to try to let them know in advance that I was unaware of their concerns or intent to work on my property that day or the following week.

3. The fact that I was not notified of the City of Saint Paul’s concern prevented me from taking independent action, which I would have done had I known about the complaint and violation.
 - a. As you can see from the estimate and statement I have included, I had tree work done this summer, independently of receiving any letter from the city. I received two estimates and ultimately had Rainbow Tree Company do the work in late May, including the removal and trimming of several trees. I had considered removing the tree that was ultimately removed by the City and had an estimate for that work to be done, but decided against it after consulting with Rainbow Tree Service. Had I known that the City was requiring that I remove the tree the cost would have been $410, which I would have been willing to pay. Had I received the letter that the City claims to have sent, why would I not have had the requested work done when the tree removal company was on my property?

4. The amount that I have been assessed by the City includes time that the crew members were working on my property, but also well over an hour in which the crew members were in a "heated discussion" with my neighbors, after they had irresponsibly cut down foliage that belonged both to myself and my neighbors. I do not believe I should be liable for time city workers spent trying to ameliorate the situation with my neighbors.
 - a. Additionally, these workers had absolutely no idea what work they were supposed to do. They did not know which property was mine or my neighbors, did not know what plant growth was problematic or within code and they seemed to have the attitude that anything that could become problematic in the next 10 years was subject to trimming, rather than focusing on problems that were there. Because the worker had a letter in his hand, did not give him the right to do whatever he wanted to do with any plant growth on my property.

Ms. Martin-

Thank you very much for returning my phone call last week. I had left a message during the 6:30-8:30 time slot you suggested and when I didn't hear back, I assumed you had not gotten the message. I knew that you would not be in the office at 5:30, but I was available at that time, remembered that I had wanted to follow up, so left a message hoping you would receive it. Again, I appreciate your response.

I am reaching out to you for your help resolving the situation that occurred on my property a week and a half ago. I have lived in my home for over 30 years, work in the neighborhood as a professor at the University of Minnesota and pride myself in being a law-abiding and responsible member of my community. I was mortified when the tree worker showed me a copy of a letter with my name on it, letting me know that a complaint had been made about the trees on my property. I would never allow a letter like that to go unanswered.

I have four concerns about what happened. My first concern is that I had never received a letter from the city and had I received it, I would have responded and taken action immediately. This spring, I saw the need to have some tree work done and received an estimate from Rainbow Trees (and two other companies) and had Rainbow do tree work in mid-May. As you can see from the attached estimate and statement, the tree that was leaning over into the street was included. After discussing the issue with the arborist, I made the decision to wait to have that tree removed. He agreed that it posed no immediate threat and taking it down could wait. Obviously, had I received the letter from the city, I would have had the tree removed while they were doing the work on my property.

My second concern is that I have heard from several city employees that visits had been made to my property prior to the tree removal. I am confused as to why no attempts were made to contact me—either by phone, a second letter, in person while on the property, or even attaching a letter to my door. This would have been helpful in allowing me to take independent action with regards to the trees. Without having received the letter or other attempts made to reach me, I was unable to do any additional work prior to the arrival of the city crew.

My third concern is the fact that Nate mentioned that I would not only be charged for the tree removal (the crew was working for exactly 45 minutes taking down the tree), but that I would be charged for all of the time that the crew was present. As I am guessing you could ascertain, the crew was there for almost an hour before they even started work, talking to neighbors and myself, contacting other city workers, etc. I am sure you agree that I should not be liable for time that the crew was interacting with my neighbors or financially punished for my neighbors' anger.

My fourth concern is the quality of the work done. As you know from talking to both myself and Mr. Foster (my neighbor), the head of the crew had no idea what he was supposed to remove, what constituted my property or my neighbors, and allowed his workers to break off branches and cut trees in any manner they liked. The result, as you saw, was not helpful. What they did on my property was as improper as what was done on my neighbors. The fact that he held a letter in his hand from the city did not give him the right to cut anything that he chose and in a manner that is going to result in the death of many of the plantings between my house and the Foster's home.

As I mentioned, I am attaching the estimate and invoice from the tree work I recently had done. I am asking that you intervene on my behalf and waive any cost connected to the tree removal that was done. As I mentioned, I work as a professor making it impossible to leave work when I am scheduled to teach and making taking additional action regarding this matter very difficult. I found you to be extremely understanding, responsive and empathetic and am asking for your help with this matter. Thank you very much for your help and consideration.

Sincerely,
Cynthia J. Meyer
