Dear Councilmembers,

I want to rebut concerns expressed in a Star Tribune article¹ that holding our City elections with presidential elections would be “functionally impossible” to administer if a citizen-sponsored charter amendment passes (RES 24-1134).

First, the City Council can only reject a charter amendment when the proposed change is unconstitutional or conflicts with State law. Nor can the City Council change the proposed amendment language.

Second, nothing is “functionally impossible” in election administration. City Ordinance permits a two-page ballot when necessary to implement ranked-choice voting.² Other cities have ranked-choice voting for municipal elections on presidential years.³ Hand counting is always a last-resort option.

Third, I caution accepting advice or information from the Ramsey County Elections Office regarding the transition to presidential election years. The Office is not a neutral party regarding this issue, and initially rejected 1,115 signatures for insignificant reasons to keep the amendment off the ballot (see attachments).

Sincerely,

Peter K. Butler

The Petitioners may amend the Petition within ten days by filing a supplementary petition in my office. If they choose to file additional papers, Ramsey County Elections will make an examination of the amended petition within five days of receipt.

Example of petition signatures initially rejected for not having "Avenue" as part of the address.
