Dear Meghan Kisch:

On March 12, 2012, a tobacco compliance checked my store. I asked the guy who asked me to buy cigarettes to show his I.D., and he did so. I was reading his birth date as he was 1986, I even said "oh you are 1986." then I said "you asian guys look so young?" He heard me but he was silent and he didn't correct me.

So, I wish to admit this fact but I contest the $50.00 administrative fine. I am requesting a public hearing before the St. Paul City Council.

Sincerely
Neema AL-Salman
