SPRWS earns fluoridation award from US CDC

The water utility earned the Water Fluoridation Quality Award from the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention for 2015.

Fluoridation is the adjustment of fluoride in the drinking water to a level that is effective for preventing tooth decay. Fluoridation has been hailed by the CDC as one of the 10 great public health achievements in the 20th century.

The water utility was recently awarded the commendation recognizing those water communities that achieved excellence in community water fluoridation by maintaining a consistent level of fluoride in drinking water throughout 2015.

In Minnesota, about 105 out of a possible 967 water utilities received these awards.

"We can be proud that in Minnesota, communities are employing this effective public health measure," said State Oral Health Director Merry Jo Thoelle.
