Re License Application # DSIBLLIQ-000561-2026

Ms. Vang:

I attended the license hearing for Clairview Holdings, LLC dba Groveland Tap that you presided over on March 5 of this year. I was unaware of the license application until March 1, 2025, so I missed the comments deadline of February 28. I attended the hearing to get an idea of what the issues surrounding the license applications were. After attending the hearing, hearing the testimony of the affected persons, and reviewing documents in the license application file available online, I decided to accept your invitation for additional comments offered at the end of the hearing. I am in opposition to the granting of the requested liquor licenses. I am neutral on the issue of the gambling license.

I do not live within the notification range (which partially explains my lack of knowledge of the applications) but have lived in the broader neighborhood for more than 20 years – first on Ashland Avenue and now on Portland Avenue since December 2010. During that time, I have been to the Groveland Tap enough times to have “regular” status. What follows is a synopsis of what I took away from the hearing on March 5 and review of the documents in the file, and the reasons they led me to oppose the requested liquor licenses. And to the extent that I may use some legal terms, it is not because I am some crackpot who watches reruns of “Law and Order” every night. It is because I have been a practicing litigation attorney for more than 20 years. I am sending this email from my personal account rather than my business account because I am speaking as a resident of St Paul and of the neighborhood rather than in my professional capacity.

1) Conditions on Current License. The most significant and troubling thing that was brought up in the hearing was Applicant's request to remove the existing conditions number 1 through 7 on the current license. As an initial matter, it is important to note that neither the Notice letter sent to neighbors nor the Notice of Licensing Hearing indicate that removal of the existing conditions was under consideration. They indicate only that adding a gambling license and full liquor license were under consideration. Removal of the conditions appears to not have been brought up until it was done so orally at the hearing. As one of the persons testifying in opposition to the application noted, this seems to be a bit of a bait-and-switch. More importantly, this brings up a question of due process because persons affected by removal of the conditions were not given fair notice and opportunity to be heard on the issue. And it is very possible, and even likely, that there are persons who do not object to the gambling and liquor licenses but would object to the removal of the conditions, all of which have effects on, and appear to be in place for the benefit of, neighbors and the neighborhood.

In fact, it is puzzling why Applicant would have any objections to the conditions in the first place. The conditions do not impose any undue burdens on the business. They merely require the business to keep the premises clean and orderly and to be proactive in keeping noise to a reasonable level. These are things that a responsible business owner would take steps to ensure under any circumstances. Condition #2 restricting the hours of service on the patio does pose a minor burden on Applicant, and that will be addressed later in this correspondence.

Applicant and her contingent at the hearing voiced the opinion that the conditions should not have been imposed because they were based on “what-if” situations. But the written objections submitted by members of the neighborhood show that those “what-ifs” have manifested as realities, with Groveland Tap patrons causing inordinate amounts of noise on the patio and as they come and go and that is not being controlled by staff. Patrons are also leaving cigarette butts and other litter around the premises that is not cleaned up on a daily basis by restaurant employees. If anything, then, the conditions should not be eliminated but rather strengthened.

It is dubious, to say the least, that Applicant claims she agreed to the conditions under duress and that they were unilaterally imposed by the City. Persons objecting to the application testified that the conditions were arrived at through agreement after meetings/hearings with the City and with the Macalester Groveland Community Council. I urge the licensing board to review the files from the license application for the patio at the business to determine the circumstances under which the conditions were imposed. I understand from testimony at the hearing that an IT problem may have resulted in some files being lost. But perhaps the MacGrove Council will have relevant files in its records. Applicant should not be permitted to use the current license application as a basis for overturning conditions that were legitimately applied in the patio licensing process.

2. Capital Improvements Made by Applicant. Applicant made a point of informing the persons present at the hearing that she had spent $2.4 million remodeling the premises of the business, as well as additional funds to buy the corner lot and convert it to a parking lot for the business (although there was also testimony that the purchase of the lot was partially funded by a community council). But these expenditures are irrelevant to the present inquiry.

The money for the lot and the remodel were not spent by Applicant for the benefit of the neighborhood. They were calculated expenditures made because Applicant believed (probably correctly) that they would result in a positive return on investment in the long run. And in the short run they most likely benefit Applicant through tax benefits for these business expenses. The expenditures were made for Applicant's personal financial benefit, not for the benefit of the community, and are not a basis for sympathy or special consideration in this licensing process.

3. Hours of Operation. Under the applied-for licenses, the business would be required to close at midnight with all customers off premises by 12:30 a.m. Applicant testified that that her current license permits the business to remain open until 1:00 a.m. so this "reduction in hours" is a sacrifice she is willing to accept in order to get the license approved. But in reality, applicant is not making any sacrifice at all.

Attached is a screenshot from the Groveland Tap website. The website states that the hours of operation are until 10:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday, until 11:00 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and until 9:00 p.m. on Sunday. And experience proves this to be correct. While the license permits the business to remain open until 1:00 a.m., ever since the pandemic and the remodel, the hours of operation have been as stated on the website. So Applicant is not sacrificing any hours of operation by obtaining the new licenses.

In fact, based on Applicant's desire to have condition #2 limiting the hours of operation on the patio removed, it is fair to infer that if the new licenses are granted, then Applicant intends to expand the hours of operation, including operations on the patio, to as late as the closing time of midnight. This would result in additional noise adversely affecting the Berkley Avenue and Howell Street neighbors even later into the evenings. Noise generated by the patio is one of the primary issues raised by the numerous persons who submitted objections to the license applications. Granting the license would most certainly exacerbate those problems, and by extension adversely affect property values.

4. Testimony of Supporters. The testimony of persons supporting the grant of the new licenses added little to the conversation. Those persons effectively stated that they have enjoyed going to the Groveland Tap for years and that Applicant operates a good business. But that alone is not grounds for granting the licenses sought, especially when so many neighbors who would be affected by the grant of the licenses have voiced objections.

One exception to the above was the gentleman who testified that because he is diabetic, he cannot drink wine or beer so he would appreciate a place nearby where he can go to have a hard liquor drink. Regardless of a person's reason for preferring liquor to beer and wine, the fact remains that there are numerous other businesses in the immediate and extended vicinity that offer hard liquor drinks, including Estelle (which is right across the street from Groveland Tap), Plum's, Pauly's Pub, and Tiffany. So there is neither a shortage of nor a need for another liquor bar/restaurant in the neighborhood.

The aforementioned gentleman also testified that he recently drove to Northeast Minneapolis to patronize an establishment that has a four-season patio like the Groveland Tap but that also serves hard liquor. A four-season patio is such a luxury in Minnesota that it cannot be considered an entitlement that would provide the basis for a grant of a full liquor license. Furthermore, there are plenty of restaurants/bars offering patios open on a weather-permitting basis and full liquor in fairly close proximity to the Groveland Tap, including the aforementioned Pauly's Pub, Sweeney's, Gabe's, and Bay Street Burger Dive just to name a few.

5. Testimony of Objectors. The testimony of the persons objecting to the licenses was far more compelling. Persons testifying at the hearing, as well as persons who submitted written/email objections, voiced genuine complaints and concerns about the increase in noise from the Groveland Tap that has been experienced since the patio opened. One gentleman testified that there is a constant din audible from his backyard between 5:00 and 8:00 p.m. most nights, and that after 8:00 loud voices from the patio are still frequently heard. He also testified that the television screen on the patio is visible from the backyards of Berkeley Avenue homes. And during the day, large delivery trucks are coming down the alley at all hours causing noise and congestion, and four times a year crews on the roof cleaning the cooking vents cause loud noises all night long. Neighbors are subjected to constant odors from the business's kitchen and from the fireplace on the patio, so much so that they cannot even keep their home's windows open during warm weather months. Parking in the neighborhood immediately surrounding the restaurant is very difficult to find even with the business's current operational structure. And the written objections make very valid arguments that granting the licenses will adversely affect property values in the neighborhood.

The intent of Applicant in obtaining the requested licenses is to increase her income by increasing the volume of customers coming to the business and extending the hours that the business is open. That being the case, it is impossible to present a logical argument that the licenses will not result in significant exacerbation of the already serious noise, congestion, smoke/odor, and parking problems being experienced by neighbors.

The ability of the neighbors of the Groveland Tap to enjoy their homes has already been adversely affected by the remodel and the opening of the patio. But the right of the neighbors to enjoy their homes without additional disruption from the Groveland Tap is greater than the right of the Applicant to earn a few more dollars or the privilege of potential customers to have another place to go to drink liquor. For this reason, the requested liquor licenses should be denied.

6. Gambling and St. Paul Hockey Association. There was much testimony concerning whether the Applicant's chosen charitable organization for gambling proceeds – the St. Paul Hockey Association – is actually worthy or in need of the additional funds. This testimony was irrelevant. If the Hockey Association is a charitable organization approved by the State to receive gambling proceeds, then it must be accepted as a worthy recipient. A fair argument can be made that any gambling proceeds would be better earmarked for more pressing societal problems – such as aiding victims of domestic abuse, helping those struggling with substance-use disorders, providing food and shelter for the underprivileged, or assisting the oppressed members of our immigrant communities – rather than helping more children participate in an extra-curricular activity. But Applicant is entitled to choose whatever charity she chooses and that is approved by the State. But if a license permitting gambling is issued, there should be a related condition requiring maximum recycling of paper pull tabs.

7. Who Will Benefit from the Granting of the Licenses? The testimony at the hearing was notably lacking in content on who would benefit if the licenses are granted. There was no testimony that the licenses would create more jobs. Common sense says that one or two people will need to be hired, probably on a part-time basis, to work the pull tab booth if, in fact, pull tabs are sold from a booth. But if pull tabs are sold strictly from machines or by the bartender then no new jobs will be created.

Applicant testified that selling liquor and permitting gambling would meet the evolving habits of consumers, who are drinking less beer/wine and want an "experience" when they go out. But meeting the needs and desires of potential customers as a public service is not Applicant's motive. Her motive is additional income for herself that will be realized if the requested licenses are granted. And St. Paul already has no shortage of establishments (some of which are noted above and located in the same neighborhood) that provide both full liquor sales and on-site gambling. So granting the licenses would not be filling a need for the community.

Obviously the St. Paul Hockey Association will benefit if the gambling license is granted.

But the only people who will genuinely benefit from the granting of the liquor licenses is Applicant herself and any shareholder (if there are any) of Clairview Holdings, LLC, who will make more money. Perhaps the general manager of the Groveland Tap will benefit if his pay is tied to profits or revenue. (Presumably the third person who represented Applicant at the hearing is an attorney, who is paid by the hour and gets paid regardless of what happens with the license applications.)

(The City, of course, would also benefit from increased sales tax revenue. But one would shudder to think that the City would willfully permit residents and property owners to have their quality of life so adversely affected just so the City can gain a little more tax revenue. Furthermore, those sales tax revenue increases would arguably be offset by decreased property tax revenue.)

8. Who Will be Harmed if the Licenses are Granted? As discussed above, the numerous St. Paul residents who live in close proximity will definitely be harmed by the increased noise, congestion, odors, lack of parking, and decreased property values that Applicant must fully expect to result from the issuance of the licenses.

At the hearing, Applicant stated that these problems are part and parcel to the “density” associated with urban living and that neighbors inherently accepted these problems by moving into the neighborhood. Applicant may have even indicated (this writer’s recollection is unclear) that she lives in St. Paul and puts up with the same problems. Applicant’s statements ring hollow.

The problems complained of by the neighbors at the hearing and in written submission did not exist until the Groveland Tap’s patio opened three years ago. The neighbors have lived and owned property in the neighborhood for far longer than three years. And, as mentioned at the hearing, the building housing the Groveland Tap existed as a bar/restaurant for upwards of 70 years with no such problems until the patio opened. When they moved in or bought their homes, the neighbors had no reason to expect that the Groveland Tap would make changes that so drastically and unfavorably affected their quality of life.

Additionally, Applicant does not have to put up with similar problems where she lives. A quick review of public records available for free on the internet shows that Applicant lives in Minneapolis and in a very upscale neighborhood that, it is safe to say, will never be affected by issues associated with urban density. (I will not, of course, disclose Applicant’s home address in this public document. But if the City or Applicant want to know how I found this information in less than five minutes, I will gladly tell.) So not only is it disingenuous for Applicant to say that the neighbors agreed to the problems that her actions have caused when she herself is fully insulated from such problems, but also Applicant’s statements in that regard strongly suggest a “let them eat cake” attitude towards the affected neighbors.

9. Alleged Past Failures on Part of City. Applicant testified that she has been damaged in the past by the City’s failure to process her license applications, pointing to a time in 2022 or 2023 when the business had to cordon off the current bar area because the City allegedly mis-processed the liquor license as related to the remodel of the premises. Applicant may have raised this past event as a way to garner sympathy or as a way of venting past frustrations, but either way it is irrelevant. The business currently has the liquor license applied for at that time even if there was a slight delay in finalizing it.

But it also bears noting that the testimony of Applicant casts doubt on whether the City actually made any mistake. Applicant asserted that she has owned the entire building for 30 years so there should have been no issues concerning expansion of the business within the building. (In reality, applicant does not own the building. The building is owned by Macgrove Properties, LLC, a limited liability company of which Applicant presumably is a member.) When asked clarifying questions by the hearing officer, Applicant simply iterated that she owns the entire building.

But when the young gentleman sitting at the far end of the hearing officer’s table mentioned that there used to be other businesses whose former spaces were taken over by the restaurant during the remodel,

Applicant finally admitted that there were two other businesses in the building – a comic book shop and a hair salon – whose leased spaces became part of the expanded restaurant. And it became clear after further discussion that the bar area of the restaurant had formerly been on the east wall of the space but was moved as part of the remodel to the west end of the building where the hair salon had been. At that point, the licensing officer seated at the hearing officer's table commented indicating that moving the bar from one area of the space to an area that had not previously been part of the restaurant requires special licensing considerations.

To the casual and even somewhat informed observer, this suggests that Applicant at the time of the remodel mistakenly believed that she could put the bar anywhere she liked in the space because she owned the entire building, so she did not take that into account when applying for remodel-related licenses. When in fact, moving the bar to the space on the opposite end of the building formerly occupied by the salon required a special license application that Applicant failed to obtain at the appropriate time. In that case, it was Applicant's error, not that of the City, that resulted in the temporary inability to use the bar.

Conclusion. Granting the requested licenses would not fill any unmet need in the neighborhood or in St. Paul at large. The only certain results of granting the licenses would be that Applicant would realize increased income at the expense of residents and property owners living near the Groveland Tap. Applicant certainly has the right to operate her business, but the City is under no obligation to ensure that she maximizes her profits. Especially when her additional profits come at the expense of taxpaying St. Paul residents.

Because the quality of the lives of the numerous St. Paul residents who will be adversely affected by the grant of the full liquor license are of greater importance than additional income for Applicant, the equities of the situation require that the requested liquor license be denied.

Legislative Hearing Officer Vang,

Thank you for your questions and inquiry during the hearing about the liquor license and charitable gambling license during our hearing on March 5th.

Our application represents an important moment for Mayor Kaohly Her's motto that St. Paul is "Open for Business". The restrictions that have been placed on Groveland Tap simply because of vocal neighbors, creates a challenge for urban dining and a bar and restaurant site that has continuously operated since 1939.

As an owner and hands on operator for over 30 years in the city of St. Paul the challenges for our industry have never been greater. The conditions that were placed on our license in 2026 were done so without considering the consistency of our operation, or our track record without violations.

In an era where too often the loudest voices are the only ones heard, it is important to have consistency in regulation and enforcement for businesses. Therefore it is our request that none of the conditions of our license from 2023 be retained.

When we renovated in 2022, our improvements required no variances or special zoning exceptions. That's why it doesn't make sense that we would have restrictive conditions on our license. Our property is zoned for our operations, and we are concerned that a handful of neighbors have organized out of a grudge rather than because of any issues.

As stated, we continue to go above and beyond by plowing the alley, donating to the neighborhood and supporting our local schools and teams only to be unfairly targeted by powerful and connected neighbors.

Instead, we propose that we be provided an opportunity to operate without conditions that are more restrictive than any other neighborhood bar or restaurant in the city.

These are challenging times for hospitality, and locally owned small businesses should be given as many opportunities for success as possible against non-local ownership that now dominates hospitality. Please have staff reach out with any questions.

Thank you,
