Please describe the situation, issue or need for this project:

The Saint Paul Police Department is built upon a foundation of good public relations with ALL communities within Saint Paul. Good public relations rely on a high level of trusting relationships between the SPPD and those we serve. Throughout the years, it has been clear that we need to continue to build trusting relationships with our communities of color. These trusting relationships pay dividends to the entire City which can result in improved public safety and improved chances of recruiting future Officers who are more reflective of our community.

Please describe the specifics of the project, how it will be carried out, and goals to address the situation above:

Shop with Cops started in 2000 as an initiative from the SPPD West District. The purpose of the event is to foster positive relationships between youth and officers. Young kids, K- 6th grade are selected each year during the end-of-the-year holiday season to shop at one of the local area stores to purchase gifts for members of their immediate family. Each child is given a small amount of money to spend, normally $50-$100 depending on the size of the child's immediate family. Approximately 1-2 children are assigned to each police officer, who then escorts them around the store and assists in selecting appropriate gifts for each family member. The children understand that the money is not for personal use and must only be spent on household members. After shopping, the children will eat lunch, wrap their gifts, and continue to get to know the police officers.

To illustrate the success of this program we took a look at how many youth were served in recent years. In 2007, 82 children participated and this year we expect 250 children to participate. As you can see, the continued success relies on Foundation funds.

Please describe the situation, issue or need for this project:

The St. Paul PAL is seeking programming dollars so that our curriculum based mentoring programs may continue; providing quality youth collaborative programming requires funds. PAL's current funds expire in 2012. With the expiration of these funds, the PAL programs are at risk of being discontinued which would result in the over 400 PAL members we now serve to be abandoned. The overall goal of PAL is to be a conduit for which the Police Department uses to achieve its overall mission; "promote safe and healthy neighborhoods". PAL's Juvenile crime reduction and self-esteem building is based on the theory that young offenders must be taught to view their victims as people and to view themselves as being more in control of their choices. The mentoring that PAL provides helps in building emotional competencies to achieve these goals. Research has shown that by creating opportunities that allow youth to develop problem-solving skills, anger management, and empathy will lead to an increased feeling of inclusion. The increased feeling of being a part of a "community" in turn leads to feelings of ownership and a desire to take care of that community. Police directed youth activities has been proven to create this desired sequence of events. The St. Paul PAL lacks its own facility such as a recreation center or community center in which to program out of, the most cost efficient and effective way to create these much needed positive mentoring environments is by partnering with these centers that have the necessary space and programming infrastructure. We do this by having police officers take on lead roles in presenting mentoring activities, homework help and various field trips. PAL needs funding to support our programming.

Please describe the specifics of the project, how it will be carried out, and goals to address the situation above:

The specific equipment needed to pursue the St. Paul PAL's goals and objectives will be determined on a quarterly basis through youth lead discussion groups. It has been our experience that youth led focus and planning sessions result in greater participation, acceptance and compliance with the rules and regulations associated with PAL and other activities such as school. Based on the youth interests and needs at this point, it is estimated that at a minimum, based on past projections of activities we have provided, $3,500.00 is needed to keep current programming. Our PAL programming takes place year round on an ongoing basis and is conducted by police officers, community volunteers and through collaborative efforts with other organizations. In the past, money has been spent on mentoring, recreational and athletic activities. We are also asking that requested funds be allowed to be used to purchase healthy snacks as most of the youth we work with are during after-school hours and the healthy snacks are their only opportunity to receive a nutritious meal. For the past two years our mentor coordinator position is funded through a Federally Funded National PAL sub grant. The mentor coordinator's position prepares, organizes, documents and carries out specific planning regarding mentoring and activities associated with the St. Paul PAL Program. The mentor coordinator also creates, establishes and maintains relationships with other collaborative organizations throughout the St. Paul area. Through curriculum and activity based mentoring, our goals will include: Crime Prevention / Delinquency: Promote a reduction in juvenile crime and delinquency of PAL program participants. Increase and stabilize school attendance. Provide educational enthusiasm. Improved community relations with the St. Paul Police Department: Quarterly we will ask parents, youth, officers and teachers associated with PAL to complete surveys.

How will this project will benefit the community, reduce crime, or improve safety of officers and the public:

The St. Paul Police Activities League has undergone a transformation from strictly an Athletic League, where police officers basically coached athletic teams for a season, to an Activities League, where youth are engaged in different activities including sports. It was very effective for what it was; having cops coach kids. However, even though that was the case, it was the development of the programming or the need to develop the programming, to become more effective or have a greater impact on the long term outcomes desired, such as the development of empathy, the development of a stronger moral compass etc. has led to an evolution in our programming. The PAL Program has now developed into not only a Police Athletic League, but has been renamed to reflect the new goals and objectives of the programming. The name now, is the Police Activities League, which allows us to step out of the simple athletic nature of our relationship with the youth to include non-athletic programs. This transformation now, has allowed us to develop into a more of a mentoring program. By doing this, we are touching more youth who are simply not interested in athletics per say, but are still in need of or desiring that relationship or in need of a mentoring relationship with law enforcement. Currently, with the new design of PAL, we have been able to touch just less than 500 youth. These youth engaged in mentor type relationships ranging from 1:1 mentor to mentee activities at EXPO Elementary and even 5:1 mentor to mentee during our Flag Football season which included over 100 youth. With the now dual roles, of athletic and other activities, the specifics of all programming will be found in the heart of a mentoring type program. Our projects will include or be formulated where the mentor coordinator's position prepares, organizes, documents and carries out specific planning regarding mentoring and activities associated with the St. Paul Police Activities League. The mentor coordinator also creates, establishes and maintains relationships with other collaborative organizations throughout the St. Paul area.

Please list other agencies, organizations, businesses, or institutions that will be involved in this project:

Through the last couple of years, the St. Paul Police Activities League has been able to develop partnerships with different agencies, organizations, businesses and institutions that are supportive of the St. Paul PAL's mission statement to help supply in-kind contributions to our PAL Program. Through these in-kind contributions, we have been able to effectively sustain our programming by working with these partners on different events and activities. Our partnerships include: Ames Lake Opportunity Neighborhood, Boys & Girls Club, Century College, DNR, East Side Network Café, El Rio Neighborhood House, EXPO Elementary School, Friends of Oxford Pool, Grant Thornton, Grid 10 - Wheelock Parkway Apartments, Hmong American Partnership, Liemandt Foundation, Maryland Park Apartments, McDonough Recreation Center, Merrick Community Services, MPL Specialties, National PAL (Police Activities League), Ramsey County Sheriff's Department, Shirty Something, St. Paul Police Department, St. Paul Public Schools, 4H, 1619 Maryland Park Apartments.

Recruiting officers

Please describe the situation, issue or need for this project:

In 1971 Chief Rowan began a partnership with the Boy Scouts of America, Exploring Division. The Saint Paul Police Department became and still is the sponsoring agency of the Saint Paul Police Explorers. This group has successfully recruited many members that have gone on to become police officers. This group raises funds on its own to pay for uniforms, supplies and training. It has fallen short in the last few years - they were not able to attend the national training exercise this year for the first time since 1984.

Please describe the specifics of the project, how it will be carried out, and goals to address the situation above:

These funds will again allow our proud explorers to attend the state conference by paying for approximately 11 registrations for a total of $3146.

$286 per registration

I am writing this letter to tell you why I chose to nominate the advisors of the St Paul Police Explorers (past and present) as a continuous group of volunteers. I was an explorer for 6 years and an advisor for 21. I know the history of the program and how it began. I know how we struggled financially until retired Chief, Richard Rowan and West Publishing offered their support. Nick Cenaiko of Cenaiko Productions also provided generous support for 28 years. The St Paul Police Department has been able to assist with uniforms since the 1990s but that too has become very limited due to reduced budgets everywhere. Every chief since Rowan has allowed advisors to switch hours and days off or be marked "special" on the time sheets to run the program but the job has gotten too busy and too big to continue to run in that manner. It took me five years but I finally found officers to replace me. Even they have already had attrition and the current advisor was one of my own explorers so we have a special relationship and he comes to me frequently for advice. The problem is real and the possibility of the St Paul Police Explorer Program folding is quite possible. The advisors and explorers have to spend so much time now doing fund raising that it has shifted the main focus of the program, causing burnout among the advisors and explorers. The program itself has a natural cycle of high membership with dedicated youth that I practically had to force to leave © then slim pickings for potential explorers for a time, which is to be expected. I know how draining the fundraising can be first hand and remember many drunken Vikings fans I had to deal with while working concessions with the explorers as a volunteer organization at the Metrodome. You can only sell so many candy bars and pizzas to family and friends and neither of them bring in enough money to fund the program. Asking the explorers for money can help but most of the youth come from lower socio economic backgrounds where it can cause a financial burden on the families of the explorer to pay to attend the conferences. This year is the first year the SPPD Explorers have not attend the National Law Enforcement Conference since 1984.

I want to support the program and wish I had the funds to be its financial benefactor but that isn't the case. I got my invitation to the St Paul Police Ball (GALA) in the mail and couldn't help thinking when I read the theme for the night that the Explorers are not only those "Youth" but they are the program's future and lifeblood. The program needs financial support and I don't know how to get it other than giving them exposure.

The Richard H Rowan Award is much deserved by the past and present advisors because Chief Rowan began the program along with the Boy Scouts in 1971. The program has been a tremendous success because of TEAMWORK which is why I nominated the program instead of one person. What I hope to accomplish is give the program the exposure it needs and deserves and preserve the legacy that began with Chief Richard Rowan.

I am also including some interesting and fun historical documents but none of them are the originals.

To: St Paul Police Foundation
From: Officer Susan Jones
Sub: Richard Rowan Award
Date: 08-15-12

In March of 1971, Chief Richard Rowan began a partnership with the Boy Scouts of America, Exploring Division, formerly the Indianhead Council and now the Northern Star Council, Learning for Life Division. The St. Paul Police Department became the sponsoring agency of the St Paul Police Explorers, POST #454 and has done so continuously since then. At that time, a POST committee was also created with chairperson, Sergeant John McCabe, including committee members, Deputy Chief Donald Blakely and Officer Herb Davis. The institutional representative was Lieutenant David Weida and the post advisor was Officer Tom Owens. The post was started with a 100.00 donation from the "Police Union". William H Spurgeon III, a successful businessman from southern California, was a major leader in the development of special interest Exploring. He created the career-interest coeducational Exploring Program during the 1960's to encourage young men and women between the ages of 14 and 21 to explore different careers with mentors currently working in that career field. The Boy Scouts and Exploring created the Spurgeon Award in 1971 as the highest recognition for individuals and organizations contributing significant leadership to the Exploring Program. Although Rowan never received the prestigious award, nine members of the St. Paul Police Department have which illustrates the success of the program he brought to the City of St Paul and the St Paul Police Department. It once again, illustrates the tradition of volunteerism, dedication and innovation within the St Paul Police Department.

The St Paul Police Department's officers and volunteers who made this program so successful is a long and distinguished list. Although the post seemed to have floundered somewhat in the first few years, it rebounded in 1974 under the leadership of Officer Michael McGinn from the Public Relations Unit when he was assigned as the lead advisor. He was assisted by Sergeant James Schaefer, Officer John Ballis, Community Officer Reynold Renteria and Police Artist, Paul Johnson. The POST Committee included Chairman, Deputy Chief James Griffin, Lieutenant Bob Pavlak, Officer Paul Kill, Lieutenant Larry McDonald, Lieutenant Bud Arnold, Officer Chester Christy and Mr. Bob Kost. The Institutional Representative was Lieutenant Dave Weida. Chief Rowan knew the importance of the program in mentoring and recruiting youth to become police officers and also the benefits of educating the youth about the role of the police, especially after the volatile 1960's. He wanted the program to succeed and made a commitment to helping it become a successful program.

By 1976, Officer McGinn had become Sergeant McGinn, Deputy Chief Griffin was the Institutional Representative and Lieutenant Larry McDonald was the POST Committee Chairman. Sergeant McGinn had also begun to search for and train a new lead advisor, Officer Dick Gardell. Chief McCutcheon continued to support the Exploring program during his tenure as chief and it was during this time, he was contacted by former Chief Richard Rowan about a way to fund the exploring program.

Chief Rowan was working at West Publishing for John Nasseff, specializing in security issues. Rowan had arranged with John Nasseff and West Publishing to let the St. Paul Police Explorers collect money for cars to park in the lots surrounding the parking ramp of the St Paul Civic Center for special events after business hours and all day on weekends and holidays. The explorers were then expected to keep the lots of West Publishing clear of trash for the employees of West Publishing. This proved to be very successful and lucrative for the explorers. It allowed the Advisors to take the explorers, most of whom were inner city youth on what were called, "super trips" based on Boy Scouts of America Guidelines. Some of those trips included backpacking and hiking in Glacier National Park, Montana, backpacking and hiking in the Boundary Waters, canoeing on the upper St Croix River, sightseeing in Washington DC and visiting the Smithsonian Museums as well as a weeklong visit to Regina, Saskatchewan and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) Training Academy.

In 1984, Sergeant Richard Gardell asked to step down as the lead advisor and make room for others. Lieutenant Mike McGinn stepped in until Officer Joe Strong became the lead advisor. Mike McGinn was assisted by then Sergeant Lisa Millar and the focus of the explorer post was even more refined with an emphasis on the annual Minnesota Law Enforcement Explorer Conference and the National Law Enforcement Conference held all over the United States annually then bi-annually as it continues today. When Joe Strong asked to step down, Captain McGinn called on some of his officers in the traffic unit as well announcing the advisor position in the Daily Bulletin. Mike McGinn could not have known that day how many officers would feel the calling and apply for the position. He passed the torch to Traffic Officers Joe Neuberger and Dick Wachel and Patrol Officers Cory Manthei, Ron Riemenschneider and Susan Jones. Officer Manthei had experience as an explorer advisor with the Minnetonka Police Department. Both Officers Riemenschneider and Jones had been St Paul Police Explorers so the tradition of volunteering began again. The St Paul Explorers and the new advisors embarked on a journey that catapulted the explorers to long standing success at both the state and national conferences. Officer Jones attended a national explorer conference at Fort Collins, Colorado in 1982 as an explorer and was very disappointed at the awards ceremonies when it seemed that all the awards which included scholarship money went to either California or Florida posts. In 1992, she attended her third national conference but now as an advisor in Columbia, South Carolina where the St Paul Police Explorers established themselves as one of the top posts in the country. It was at that conference that a former US Customs Director and Past National Conference Chairperson told Officer Jones that she had been at many conferences and until South Carolina, she wasn't sure what state St Paul was in but at the Columbia conference, St Paul, Minnesota was heard loud and clear and no one would guess where St Paul was again. Since then, the St Paul Police Explorers have been recognized as one of the most successful exploring programs in the United States. Other exploring programs in Minnesota began to ask St Paul advisors how they ran their program with many adopting some of the program's training models and policies. Minnesota soon began a history of success at the National Law Enforcement Exploring Conferences with Minnesota consistently winning 25 percent of the awards at the conferences.

It was during those years that Officer then Sergeant Manthei and Officer then Sergeant then Lieutenant then Commander Neuberger and Officer then Sergeant Mathison (former Fridley explorer/advisor) now Commander, Officer then Sergeant Adamek and Officer, still Officer Jones helped mentor many explorers who went on to become police officers in both St Paul and other law enforcement agencies. Some of those same explorers became advisors in St Paul and other agencies. The tradition of being promoted also began with most of those explorers becoming sergeants here and in those other departments. The message was clear, mentoring and volunteering fosters more mentoring and volunteering. The current lead advisor for St Paul, Officer Charles Redmond, was also a St Paul Police Explorer who held the position of captain of the post and was on the first national law enforcement explorer team from St Paul to win a first place award in Atlanta, Georgia. It is very clear how mentoring and volunteering enhances one's career and life in general and it all began with one man who saw the potential, Richard Rowan. The commitment to the city's youth was passed to Rowan's successor, Chief McCutcheon who recognized how the exploring program could help advance women and minorities in the hiring process. McCutcheon directed the explorer program be included in the department manual and be officially recognized as volunteers alongside the NAOs and reserves.

Chief Finney continued the tradition of support by finding the funds to purchase revolvers and allow the explorers to shoot at the conferences, something almost all posts in the country had done except the St Paul Police Department. That program, under the guidance and direction of Range Officer Randy Barnett became very successful and produced state and national shooting champions as well as winning the team traveling trophy at the Minnesota Law Enforcement Explorer Conference. He also placed the exploring program under the volunteer services unit, giving the post its very first source of department funding for uniforms. Until then, the explorers had to buy the uniform themselves which meant financial hardship for some of the inner city's youth. Finney also improved upon Chief McCutcheon's belief that the program could help with hiring and began to slowly hire qualified explorers as parking enforcement officers which would give them hiring preference should they apply to become St Paul Police Officers. The post also began to be recognized and receive awards for both explorers and advisors by the Boy Scouts, Learning for Life and the Minnesota Law Enforcement Explorer Association, including the prestigious Don Cup.

There are so many people who helped this program become the respected post it is today. Forty seven former explorers have gone on to become police officers and 22 of those work for the St. Paul Police Department One former St Paul Police Explorer is Chief Dave Thomalla of the Maplewood Police Department who was the captain of the St. Paul Police Explorers in 1978. The Minnesota Law Enforcement Explorer Association website has a "wall of honor", recognizing those former explorers from all MNLEEA posts who became law enforcement officers all over the United States. Fourteen of those listed on the wall of honor from other explorer posts now work for the St Paul Police Department. Again, the success of law enforcement exploring is indisputable and Chief Rowan clearly had the foresight to believe it would/could work as have most chiefs of police in Minnesota.

The success of the St Paul Police Explorers is because of TEAMWORK. We did it as a team, before and after our peers and along with our peers. I must mention the following Officers who were former St Paul Police Explorer Advisors with most having been explorers in St Paul or another agency:

Former Advisors:

- Retired Officer Pete Bravo.
- Terry Bravo (RN)-former St Paul Police Explorer.
- Retired Sergeant Brooke Schaub.
- Mike Dries-friend of Dick Gardell and lifelong resident of St. Paul.
- Patty Bailey-former Neighborhood Assistance Officer (NAO) and citizen of St Paul.
- Sergeant Jeremy Ellison-former St. Paul Police Explorer and post captain.
- Sergeant Lisa Kruse-former St Paul Police Explorer and post captain.

- Retired Sergeant Sam Caron
- Retired Officer Ron Reimenschneider-former St Paul Police Explorer.
- Officer Chad Degree-former police explorer.
- Officer Neil Anderson-former Roseville Police Explorer.

- Officer Annie Baumgart.
- Officer Stephanie Bailey.
- Officer Jamie Sipes-former Ames, Iowa Police Explorer.
- Officer Josh Lynaugh-former Stillwater Police Explorer.
- Officer Dan Ficcadenti.
- Officer Joe Ryan.
- Officer Carlos Wong.

Current Advisors:

- Officer Chelsey Christensen.
- Sergeant Shawn Murphy-former St Paul Police Explorer and post captain.
- Officer Tony Tallarico.
- Officer Eric Kammerer.

There were also two very special St Paul Police Explorers that died unexpectedly during their participation in the St Paul Police Exploring Program. Kevin Jensen died in a tragic car accident and because he loved the St Paul Police Explorers so much, his family created a scholarship for a St Paul Police Explorer who attends college and pursues a law enforcement degree. This scholarship is awarded yearly to an explorer chosen by the St Paul Police Explorer Advisors.

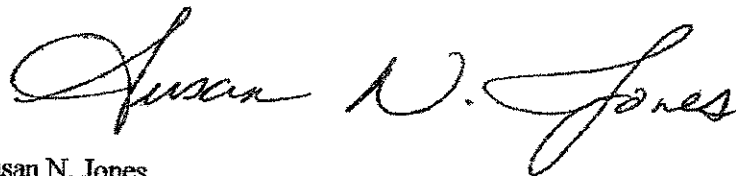

There was also the unforgettable and irreplaceable, Joe Plant who joined the St Paul Police Explorers at the tender age of 15. Joe was a unique and some might say, quirky young man. Joe's enthusiasm for the program was infectious and continuous. Joe advanced through the ranks of the explorers, ending as captain of the post. He then attended Century College and St Cloud State University where he earned his bachelor's degree in law enforcement. He returned to the exploring program as an associate advisor, a position he thoroughly enjoyed. Joe took the civil service test for the St Paul Police Department and was hired that same year. He could not have been more proud. It was Joe's childhood dream since becoming best friends with Richard (Ricky) Gardell and meeting Ricky's dad, Richard Gardell. When asked how he was doing during his field training after graduating from the academy, Joe always replied, "I'm Living the Dream" and he meant it. Joe was born with a congenital heart defect that took his own father before Joe was born. Joe died unexpectedly of a heart attack at the age of 24 after only phase one of his FTO training. Joe's mother knew of his love and devotion to the St Paul Police Explorers and she too created a scholarship fund in Joe's name at St Cloud State that is awarded every year to a law enforcement student.

Up to this point, I have written about the historical significance of the program but now, I would like to talk about how the program benefits this city's youth. You see, I was one of those youth. I don't want this nomination to be about me but I do feel my story is not unique and tells the bigger picture of what Law Enforcement Exploring and specifically, the St Paul Police Explorers has accomplished. I came from a very poor family on St Paul's Eastside and grew up during the 1970's in a family of nine children with a mentally and physically abusive alcoholic father. I knew since grade school that I wanted to be a police officer but it never clicked in my mind that all the squad cars I saw only had male officers which was probably best. It never occurred to me that women couldn't do the job. Then the day came when I got a letter from the St Paul Police Department's Exploring Program in 1978, inviting me to their "First Nighter". That night changed my life forever. I was mentored by many of the people whose names I have mentioned, most notably Dick Gardell and Pete Bravo. One day I asked Dick if he thought I could be a St Paul Police Officer and he told me that he thought I would be a very good officer. He had no idea how much that meant to me and affected me until many years later when I was awarded the Carolyn Bailey Mentoring Award by the Minnesota Association of Women Police where he was asked to present me with that award. This is also an example of how life comes full circle because I wanted to give back to the very program that allowed me to pursue my dream and became an associate advisor then lead advisor until 2008 when I retired from the program after 21 years. I was a mentor/advisor during those years to Ricky Gardell and Joe Plant among many others, some of whom are sergeants now although none have been my direct supervisor...yet. I know how this program helped each and every one of those young men and women and get/have gotten much feedback through the years. Some of the comments include stories very similar to mine. Others told me how it kept them from becoming a gang member and one even said he hated the police and always thought he'd be a "loser" until he joined the post. Now, that same explorer went to college for law enforcement and is in the process of being hired by a law enforcement agency in Minnesota. It was also a very special privilege to work with these youth during what are very impressionable developmental years for them. I saw such growth in their maturity levels and experienced many firsts with them such as their first time flying, seeing the ocean and the Grand Canyon. Most of these youth would not have been able to do these things because of their family's financial status. What a gift.

I could go on and on but I think I've made a good case for why these advisors and volunteers deserve the Richard H Rowan Award. He had the foresight to say yes to the Boy Scouts and began a partnership that has lasted 41 years! As part of that tradition, nine members of the St Paul Police Department were nominated for and received the prestigious William H Spurgeon Award. Those nine included: William W. McCutcheon, William K. Finney, Richard Gardell, Cory Manthei, Joe Neuberger, Susan Jones, David Mathison and John M. Harrington. I wish for this legacy to continue and hope that the St Paul Police Foundation becomes part of that tradition. I know it is unorthodox that I nominated a continuous group but the program would not have been successful without each and everyone of the dedicated volunteers who have made it the success it is today and the proud legacy of the man, Richard H. Rowan.

Sincerely,
