Return application to: Department of Property Records and Revenue, Attn: Tax Forfeited Lands Section, PO Box 64097, St. Paul, MN 55164-0097 Attachment to Repurchase Application May 23, 2013

I purchased my condo in 1989. The mortgage that I had with Wells Fargo (Norwest Bank at the time) paid my property taxes through the beginning of 2006.

After I was laid off by former Gov. Ventura's administration (I was an appointee of former Gov. Carlson), I started my own business. At first, the business provided a moderate standard of living. However, this was during the time of my active alcoholism. I did not work to make the business more successful. Consequently, with extremely tight money, I refinanced my condo in Nov., 2005.

In all candor, the bank probably told me at that time that property taxes were now my responsibility, but I did (do) not recall that information. Consequently, I continued to believe that the bank was paying my property taxes.

I finally sobered up, but since I did not go to treatment (no health insurance), the first years of my sobriety were an extreme struggle. I am sure that treatment could have made the process somewhat easier, but even treatment does not guarantee lasting sobriety. Although Robin Williams said that sobering up on your own is like trying to give yourself proctology surgery, I was able to make it with the help of AA and The Recovery Church in St. Paul. I now have four plus years of successful sobriety.

والمحادثة والمحاد

As I have learned in AA, part of our sober requirements involves cleaning up the chaos - both personal and financial - of the past. This is what I am currently working on.

Consequently, it is my sincere hope that my application for repurchase is approved.

Respectfully submitted,7

aula o Angéla Maniaci
