Subject: Noise hearing / Feb 3 / Lucky town....

Hi.... Is there a more complete description of what this March 12 LUCKYTOWN event is supposed to be? Hard to know if I might have concerns. Bill Hanley. 198 E. 6th Street

Subject: Sound Level Variance--Luckytown--Public Kitchen and Bar

Dear Ms. McMonigal-St. Dennis:

Lowertown will not be "Luckytown" if you allow this sound level variance. I play a musical instrument and like to rock and roll myself. However, this request is for a ridiculously loud noise level. Please remember that Mears Park is surrounded by residences whether apartments or condos. Some of the residents are day sleepers or otherwise need to retire before 10:30 PM. A full 8 hours of 4 times a normal sound level (70 dB) has been purposed. At this level it is likely damage would result at the proposed intensity and duration according to Industrial Sound Levels Control Website. See their website www.industrialnoisecontrol.com. Further the proposal calls for the applicant to insure compliance with the sound level by their own monitoring. Really? Is this a good idea? The fox guards the hen house. Why doesn't your Department of Safety and Inspections provide the monitoring? Will Luckytown distribute ear plugs to all residents? I am against this proposal. Have fun, and lots of music, but keep it at a level that will not damage my hearing...annoying loud at 70 dB is quite loud enough.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment.
