Hi I am contacting you in regards to this letter that says there was a clean up at my residence between August 17 and August 31st and I am to be charged $450 for such actions when I am the one that did the clean up before the date I was given I litterly even landscaped the yard and completely fixed everything..there was however (one) board I was saving for a shelf. Litterly one board that was stolen from in front of my garage and then I receive a letter like this when no one but myself and my girlfriend did anything to my yard and we had it done by your deadline even going above and beyond your requirements by planted flowers and mulching. So please tell me how I owe ANYTHING? Attached is the only photo I have with me to show the landscaping that was done around garage.
