Vivki,

As of today, I have been the only one out there. I sent the request to the trade inspectors last week. So far none of them have been out there. It may be difficult for them to complete their inspections as the owner has her personal belongings stored in the house. I told her that we needed to have the house emptied, but I don't think this will happen.

Hi Nathan –

Will you please let me know where this is at in the inspection process? This is coming up for legislative hearing on Dec 8. Thank you.
