ORDINANCES

An ordinance is a city law enacted by the City Council. It is read at four separate council meetings and becomes effective after passage by the Council and 30 days after publication in the Saint Paul Legal Ledger. Public hearings on ordinances are held at the third reading.

Final Adoption

15 Ord 15-36

Granting the application of Franciscan Sisters of Perpetual Adoration to rezone property at 1784 LaCrosse Ave from R4 One Family Residential to RT2 Townhouse Residential and amending Chapter 60 of the Saint Paul Legislative Code pertaining to the Saint Paul zoning map.

Councilmember Bostrom moved to deny the Planning Commission recommendation to rezone from R4 to RT2 and leave the property with its currently R4 zoning. He is disappointed because there was an opportunity to make it work. This is a case of does the zoning code mean anything or is it just a recommendation that we can change if we like the particular person or organization. For the following reasons, he would like to leave the property with its current code:

1) Rezoning from R4 to RT2 is not consistent with the comprehensive plan. (Bostrom explained the reason for this.)

2) The proposed rezoning will not create newly constructed residential units, which would be an attractive asset. (Bostrom explained the reason for this.)

3) The proposed rezoning will result in a zoning use classification that is inconsistent with the use surrounding the parcel.

He appreciates the folks that feel this will be a good use of the property. Maybe it would under different circumstances. They are unwilling to come to the table and discuss some of these other things.

Councilmember Thune said the biggest issue is parking. When you get that many people in a building, there will be cars visiting. Will there be people with cars visiting? There was an idea to purchase another property, knock it down, and make a larger parking lot. Now, the organization said they can provide another three by redoing the back. There will be six parking spots. That should answer enough of the community concerns. He cannot support Dan on this. They are coming closer to a pledge from the organization that they will not park up the neighborhood.

Councilmember Finney said he took an occasion to scout around the Lacrosse address. They will need more than three spots adjacent to them. He supports those working with mental health issues. He also hears the cries of the folks in the neighborhood about increased pressure and limited parking there. He hoped they could resolve the neighborhood's concerns about parking. He will vote against the zoning change at this time and hope we can fix something later on.

Council President Stark said this is a zoning issue. It boils down to whether or not the zoning makes sense. The surrounding area has a mix of different kinds of uses. The zoning change is not inconsistent with the mixed use of that area. People can adjust and make things work. It is not a tremendous burden around parking. For that reason, he is not going to support the motion.

Councilmember Thao said he hears the concerns raised by the residents about parking. There is an opportunity to be courageous and support the least among us. To those who are marginalized for years because of mental health, they do not have the resources and power to fight for themselves. We exist so they can have a voice. He will vote in favor of granting the rezoning. This vote is not against the security and peace of mind of the residents who invest so much in St. Paul. This vote is about understanding as human beings that we are each other's partner.

Bostrom said if we like the organization, we can do the rezoning. If we are not happy with them, then we don't do it. That is what is troubling. It is a zoning issue. Now, we're saying that because we like the organization, let's disregard the facts and do it anyway. When we had the public hearing, the parking issue was a gigantic issue.

Creating three more parking places will not solve this. There was an opportunity to get possession of the house and get more parking. There was opposition to tearing down a perfectly good house. People were looking for an adequate amount of parking. There were 15 units in this place plus people coming and going. It is a 24-7 operation. It was zoned the way it was zoned for a purpose. Now, it is a different system. It is a business place. They offered to work for them and find a solution, and they did not want to be a part of it. This has nothing to do with the program. Does the zoning code mean anything or does it?

Gerry Hendrickson says he is concerned about the vote. This is an ordinance and not an appeal. That is causing confusion about how the vote should go. For an ordinance it needs four votes. The motion is voting against the ordinance. He would recommend that they clarify the vote.

Bostrom said he is fine with counsel's recommendation. When the zoning committee took a look at this, it was a 9-8 vote. This was really a close vote.

Stark said there will be a vote to adopt the ordinance change. A yes vote will be to support the zoning change; a no vote would be to oppose the zoning change.

Thune moved to approve it. Yes, it is about the technicalities of the zoning law. If you drive across the high bridge, there are things tied to the high bridge because someone jumped to their death. Most of us run into situations that people don't understand. This is the time for the Council to move forward and support this.

Finney said to be clear, this vote is to whether or not to approve the zoning change. It has nothing to do with the organization.
