PUBLIC HEARING13 [RLH FCO
15-112](#)

Appeal of Robert Stein to a Correction Notice - Complaint Inspection at 332 JESSAMINE AVENUE EAST.

The appellant arrived after Item 14.

Appellant Robert Stein appeared. He said he had consulted his attorney, and they had learned that there was no record of any permits of the wall, and a good portion of the wall was on the City right-of way and his property according to his survey. He said the City's survey dated back to the 1800s. He said the wall was very old, very large, and very expensive to replace. He said the fact that there were no permits pulled indicated it was built by the City. He said he was at a disadvantage because of all the unknowns, and the price to fix it was a huge responsibility. He said the cheaper route would be to re-slope it, and records indicated that the City had sloped it. He asked that there be some kind of joint responsibility with the City to rebuild or re-slope the wall. He said the fact that 10% was on the neighbor's property was another indication it was built by the City. He said financially it would be devastating to have to take it on. In response to a question from Councilmember Brendmoen, he said he purchased the property in 2010. He said photos indicated that the neighbor's wall had been patched and fixed, but there was no record of that either. In response to a question from Councilmember Brendmoen, he said it was an investment property that he had paid $40,000 for, which was the same as the estimate to repair the wall.

Councilmember Brendmoen moved to close the public hearing. Yeas - 6 Nays - 0

Councilmember Brendmoen said Glenn Pagel had done an extensive amount of work to try to learn more about the situation, and his findings were compelling and not consistent with the testimony from Mr Stein. She said Mr. Pagel identified that the entire slope was graded at the 1 to 1 1/2 ratio and there were just two parcels at the end of the block that had the wall in the backfill. She said there was no indication that the City built the wall. She said the City had done its due diligence and she was convinced that this wasn't a City wall. She moved to deny the appeal but said she understood it was a big investment and would work with Mr. Stein to see if anything could be done collaboratively.

Recommending that Ramsey County implement bicycle facilities on Upper Afton Road between Burns Avenue and McKnight Road.

Luke Hanson, Public Works, gave a staff report. He said Public Works recommended installing bike lanes on both sides of Upper Afton from Burns to McKnight Road as a component of the County's re-surfacing project. He said because of the width of Upper Afton, installing both eastbound and westbound bike lanes required removing parking between Burns and White Bear, and on the north side of Upper Afton between White Bear and McKnight. He said the public hearing for this updated proposal had been continued from the previous week to allow for notification of residents and property owners. He said the intent of the proposal was to increase safety for riders, walkers and drivers; and to provide residents of the East Side with enhanced transportation choices.

In opposition:

Michael Wawra (1623D Upper Afton Road)

Lana Schaffer (1458 Upper Afton Road)

Mike Kurki (2219 Upper Afton Road)

Karen Hintze (1446 Burns Avenue)

Kris Callinan (1641 Upper Afton Road)

In support:

Paul Sawyer (1346 Point Douglas Road S.), President of District 1 Community Council

Councilmember Prince moved to close the public hearing. Yeas - 6 Nays - 0

Councilmember Prince said she would like to lay the matter over to June 8 to try to work on some more ideas. She said she felt there was a real issue with trying to take a built city, with the needs and expectations of residents, and impose a system on it that may or may not be a good fit.

Council President Stark said he appreciated everyone coming to testify. He said this was obviously an issue that people felt strongly about, and one that was being dealt with across the City. He said some important issues had been raised. In response to a comment about the level of use of bike lanes on Ruth Street he said his experience was that segments of bike lanes weren't well used until they were connected to other facilities. He said this area of town presented particular challenges because there wasn't a traditional street grid and not many through streets for any mode of transportation. He said many of the comments related to group riders and the more serious riders, and part of what the City was trying to accomplish with the bike plan was to make biking easier, safer, and more convenient for more people. He said that didn't take away from the concerns.

Public hearing held and closed; laid over to June 8

25 ABZA 16-2

Public hearing to consider the appeal of Andrew Rorrig & Amanda Karls to a decision of the Board of Zoning Appeals (BZA) approving variances of the front, side, and rear setbacks, and lot coverage requirements in order to construct an eight - unit apartment building with underground and surface parking at 1174 Grand Avenue.

Councilmember Noecker recused herself because she had voted on this matter as a Planning Commissioner.

Yaya Diatta, Department of Safety and Inspections (DSI), gave a brief staff report on the application and appeal. He noted that the East Grand Avenue Overlay was not brought up during the Board of Zoning Appeals (BZA) hearing and was new information. He displayed photographs of the previous structure, neighboring buildings, and a representation of the proposed project.

Council President Stark said this was very similar to a case the Council had heard earlier in the year, and they had made a slight change on the rear setback. Mr. Diatta said that was correct. He said since the item was heard the first time, the applicant had pulled the building away from the alley to allow a greater setback and a smaller footprint. In response to a question from Council President Stark, Mr. Diatta said the proposed building was 37.5 feet in height. He said the East Grand Avenue Overlay limited the height of the building to 40 feet and limited the building footprint to no more than 25,000 square feet. He said this building was way under that. He said the Overlay District also limited the building to three stories, and the proposed building was three stories.

Councilmember Bostrom asked whether the duplex on the property had been moved. Mr. Diatta said the duplex had been removed and it was a vacant lot between to apartment buildings.

Appellant:

Mark Genereux (1165 Lincoln) said he was appearing on behalf of 24 other residents on the block who had consistently supported the appeal. He said the footprint was just barely smaller than the last time it came before the Council. He said the developer hadn't provided a scale drawing, and the appellants had developed their own. He said this was a gigantic building and would stick out like a sore thumb. He said they were appealing because of the errors of the BZA in misapplying the requirements for a variance, and because the proposed development was not at all in conformance with the East Grand Avenue Overlay District.

Amanda Karls (1174 Lincoln) said five of the seven findings that the BZA found had been met, had in fact not been met. She said another speaker would address why findings A, B and F were not met. She said element C placed the burden on the landowner to establish practical difficulties complying with the code and made clear that economic considerations were not practical difficulties. She said it was a standard lot with no unusual features, and if there were practical difficulties in complying with the code on this plot, then the code would have no relevance in many City neighborhoods, which was not the case. She said RM2 zoning allowed for any number of uses that would be applicable and acceptable. She said with respect to D regarding a plight not created by the landowner, there was no plight other than economic motivations, and the developer had options beyond a single family home or duplex. She said the developers had attempted to discredit the factual record created by the neighbors by citing case law regarding general complaints of neighbors, but the neighbors had provided specific points of fact and law. She said the conclusion reached by City staff about lot coverage was less than the floor plan and inconsistent with that provided by the developer, and was much too large regardless.

Andrew Rorvig (1171 Lincoln) responded to five "myths" regarding the opposition: He said area businesses and the Summit Hill Association were also opposed to the proposal; neighbors were in favor of redevelopment but wanted something consistent in terms of mass and scale; mass and scale had always been the issue; the perception that developers had made huge concessions was not accurate; and the scale had not changed since the previous vote.

Lori Bostrom (710 Summit Avenue), Summit Hill Association (SHA) Board member, read a statement in support of maintaining the integrity of the East Grand Avenue Overlay District.

In opposition to the appeal (in support of the project):

Ryan Burke, one of the developers, reviewed the process leading to the development of the existing plans. He clarified that the units were condos and not apartments, and he reviewed the existing plan, highlighting changes made. He said parking requirements could only be addressed with a parking garage, and the width was needed to accommodate the required size of the parking stalls and driveway. He said they were essentially the exact same footprint as the other four buildings. He reviewed the ways in which the current design addressed concerns about parking and traffic, privacy, building mass, and precedent. He said the proposed use was a better fit to the comprehensive development plan, zoning, and Grand Avenue Development Overlay than conforming apartments or retail.

Jason Lien (1060 Laurel Avenue), attorney for the developer, said it was the appellants' burden to demonstrate an error in fact, procedure, or findings made by the BZA, and the appeal failed to do that. He said their calculations were based on what was in their application, and the percentages were accurately calculated by City staff and were not disputed. He said they disputed the claims of misrepresentations related to letters of support, and the issue was not a finding by the BZA. He said the ZLU Committee of the Summit Hill Association voted 3 to 1 to approve the revised plan, but the developers didn't feel they got a fair chance at the board vote because the appellants were board members and participated in the board discussion. He said they didn't feel the letter submitted by the SHA accurately reflected the split vote, and was not authorized according to the board bylaws. He said there were no errors in procedure identified, and all of the findings were supported by the record, by City staff, and twice by the BZA. He said all of the concerns expressed were with the effect of the height and mass on the character of the neighborhood, but those issues were not related to the variance being sought. He said the BZA recognized that Grand Avenue was a mixed use corridor, and this development was between four apartment buildings of similar size. He said it would not alter the essential character of the surrounding area, and the BZA was correct in its findings. He asked that the Council deny the appeal.

Kyle Lenzen, one of the 1174 Grand property owners, spoke about design standards in terms of whether the proposed development fit in the nature of the larger area on Grand Avenue.

Kathy Plessner (2038 Summit) spoke in support.

Councilmember Tolbert moved to close the public hearing. Yeas - 5 Nays - 0

Councilmember Tolbert said variances were tough because they were inconsistent with the law but also the right of the property owner. He said he had voted against the variances last time but felt all variance conditions were met this time, and he would move to deny the appeal.

Council President Stark said he was torn about the project then and now, but he had re-read the staff report and BZA findings and hearings, and couldn't find there was error. He said it was close before, and the change was just enough that it changed his opinion.

Councilmember Prince said she wasn't on the Council when the issue was hard the first time, but didn't feel the changes were significant and the development still did not meet findings 1, 3, 4 or 6. She said she would be voting against the motion.

Councilmember Bostrom said it was a good looking proposal the first time. He said the changes were modest, but he didn't think the BZA erred in this case. He said a similar development would be welcome on the East Side. He said it was an indication that development was happening which was a good thing.

Ellen Biales, Public Works, gave a staff report on community input and the draft rules and objectives related to organized trash collection. She reviewed the history and background, the means of soliciting and collecting public comment, the demographics of respondents, and the priorities of respondents in selecting a provider. She said they also asked the question about alley plowing. She summarized resident responses and comments. She said there had been meetings with all 14 existing licensed haulers, and most haulers agreed there could be some efficiencies. She said the inability to expand and grow was a consistent concern among haulers, and small local haulers were concerned about being under-bid by national haulers. She said labor peace was a bigger concern for large haulers. She said bills were analyzed, but represented a snapshot as the number of bills was not statistically significant. She outlined the recommendations and priorities if the City decided to move forward. She answered questions from Council members.

LEGISLATIVE HEARING ITEMS FOR DISCUSSION

- 30 RLH VBR 16-28 Appeal of Donald J. Klemmer to a Summary Abatement Order, Vehicle Abatement Order, and Vacant Building Registration Notice at 1060 AVON STREET NORTH.

Legislative Hearing Officer Marcia Moermond said this was an appeal of the Vacant Building registration. She said there was no appeal of the condemnation, and DSI was proposing a Category 2 due to the condemnation and major code violations. She said the vehicle abatement order was now in compliance. She recommended denying the appeal, as the building was condemned and the conditions were believed to still persist, although the inspector had not been granted access to confirm. In response to a question from Councilmember Brendmoen she said the Category 2 status meant a Certificate of Code Compliance was required to re-occupy the building.

In opposition:

Donald Klemmer (1060 Avon) said he resided at the residence. He said he originally bought the property in 2013 for himself and his wife, who passed shortly thereafter. He said it was a big house and he had five kids, and it was a big responsibility. He said some things from a recycling business ended up at the property, and he heard the complaints and tried to address them as best he could, and felt that matter was resolved. He said the vacant property stemmed from a hoarding condition. He said he didn't get a lot of answers in Legislative Hearings as to standards and procedures and guidelines, and he didn't feel the conditions in his home constituted hoarding. He acknowledged there were some unsafe conditions, and said he had made all of the repairs. He said he had made it clear to the inspector that the repairs had been made, but scheduling issues had prevented the re-inspection from occurring. He said he couldn't afford to maintain the property by himself and his intention was to sell. He said the house was in great shape and he'd had a discussion with a neighbor about making it a rental property. He said he understood the City's concerns but his circumstances had changed and he just wanted to be able to sell the house and move along.

Councilmember Brendmoen moved to close the public hearing. Yeas - 6 Nays - 0

Councilmember Brendmoen thanked Mr. Klemmer for staying through the meeting to testify. She said there were a lot of details attached to this, but the focus was the Category 2 status. She said Mr. Klemmer held the key to meeting the requirements and in getting the property back online and ready to sell. She said she hoped he could get in touch with inspectors to move that along as quickly as possible. She moved to deny the appeal.

Council Meeting Information

The City Council is paperless which saves the environment and reduces expenses.

The agendas and Council files are all available on the Web (see below).

Councilmembers use iPads to review the files during the meeting. Using the iPad greatly reduces costs since most agendas, including the documents attached to files, are over 1000 pages when printed.

Web

Meetings are available on the Council's website. Email notification and web feeds (RSS) of newly released Minutes, Agendas and Meetings are available by subscription. Please visit www.stpaul.gov/council for meeting videos and updated copies of the Agendas, Minutes and supporting documents.

Cable

Meetings are live on St Paul Channel 18 and replayed on: Thursdays at 5:30 p.m., Saturdays at 12:30 p.m., and Sundays at 1:00 p.m. (Subject to change)
