(Voice mail came on again. Three attempts were made to call this person on July 16, and this is the second attempt made today, July 16.)

Marcia Moermond: (message left) We'll go ahead and review your case. Any questions, please reach staff.

Clare Pillsbury: $66.20 for a small cart with every other week service, 3 late fees, Aspen Waste is the hauler. The property owner says that he requested a vacation hold from January to Late March in December 2019. The only pickup made by Aspen Waste during this period was on March 20, 2020; however, owner is still being charged for Quarter 1 2020. They called Aspen to complain, but the representative state that they had no record of a request for a vacation hold, and the property owner should have mailed or e-mailed the request in December; however, the owner was not informed of this. Hauler confirmed that they did not receive a service hold request for this customer back in December for Quarter 1 2020 service. It is true that trash was not picked up during Quarter 1 2020; however, this was due to the fact that the garbage cart was not placed out for collection rather than a service hold. The hauler stated that the owner called the hauler on May 1, 2020, to request a service hold; however, the initial reason for the service hold was the owner did not generate a lot of trash and did not use the service. There has since been a service hold placed on the account for 5/18/2020 to 8/3/2020. Staff recommends approving the assessment.

Marcia Moermond: How many weeks can someone have a service hold?

Pillsbury: 26 weeks.

Moermond: May 18 through August 3, he's doing several months. He would have gotten a bill and the service hold would be a credit for the next quarter. Even if he did do a service hold, this would be the way to handle it.

Pillsbury: The service hold could have been applied, but there is no record of him calling, no record of a temporary service hold. That's more the issue than when it was requested.

Moermond: This is tricky. If he gets credit with this first quarter giving him a break trusting that he did call, let's say he did a good faith effort, that would mean that he could not have more holds this year.

Pillsbury: If he had a service hold for January through March, that would be 3 months. There is an application for a service hold, but it doesn't say the reason why. There is no explanation requested on this application.

Moermond: I'm going to recommend that this be deleted. Let's communicate with the hauler that he has exhausted his service holds for this time period.

Marcia Moermond: He did not want to participate in the hearing, but he has his written an appeal.

Clare Pillsbury: Owner says that payment was not sent late. Advanced Disposal confirmed that the payment for Quarter 1 2020 was made on February 3, 2020; therefore, the hauler is justified in charging a late fee. I want to add that he is unable and unwilling to provide documentation of payment he made from his own personal account. Staff recommends approving the assessment.

Moermond: Has he paid on time otherwise?

Pillsbury: Yes

Moermond: We can do a one-time courtesy deletion on this. It was a week and a half late.

Clare Pillsbury: Owner received a notice of a pending assessment of $82.32. Owner said they made payments. Hauler confirmed that the property owner did make the payments, but she used her old Waste Management account information that she cancelled in September 2017; therefore, the hauler confirmed that they will move the credit balance of $176 to the new account. The remaining amount of $88.68 will stay as a credit balance on her current account; therefore, staff recommends removing the assessment.

Marcia Moermond: She should have been paying better attention. All the same, it has been paid to Waste Management. Let's delete the assessment.

Clare Pillsbury: Hauler is Waste Management. The owners says they have had periodic notices of nonpayment. They are not getting bills. "The last bill that I got, I paid $100 on it, and the new amount is $156.90, so I don't have a problem paying that, but I got this letter here, shortly after that for an assessment for $261.58. And I'm noticing a problem with this garbage collection services, that there continues to be adding $100 here, $100 there, on my bill, and you guys helped me to straighten out $200 extra that was added to my bill last time, which they corrected. Again, they sent me the bill, I paid them, now they're sending me another bill but they have brought it to your attention before they even mail me out a bill, and the amount is incorrect. The amount here is saying $261.58 but I have a bill, in writing, for $156.90 from garbage collection services Waste Management of Wisconsin and Minnesota." Hauler says that the payment of $100 was made on 5/21/20; therefore, it would have been applied to the Quarter 2 2020 invoice. Staff recommends approving the assessment.

Marcia Moermond: She's mentioning payments she made, but not during Quarter 1. She did make payments in other quarters. Will recommend approval.

Clare Pillsbury: $111.78, service and late fees, Advanced Disposal. Owner writes "This is a vacant building. I had done the paperwork back in January or December I believe to let the city know that this was a vacant property. But it looks like this garbage bill is for January through March 2020 and during that time it should have been vacant." Staff verified that a vacancy request had been submitted with the city on 12/19/2019 and applied to the account on 1/1/2020; therefore, staff recommends removing the assessment.

Marcia Moermond: Property owner doesn't want to attend.

Clare Pillsbury: $75, Waste Management. They currently only have one container they paid for. Property originally had a 64-gallon and a 35-gallon cart with every week service at the start of the program. The hauler confirmed that the 35-gallon cart with every week service was removed on 07/1/2019. Despite this change, the property was still being charged for a 64-gallon cart and a 35-gallon cart. The total cost of a 35-gallon cart with late fees is $77.38. Therefore staff recommends removing the assessment of $75.00. Staff will also request that the hauler provide a credit of $2.38 to cover the difference between the total cost of the 35-gallon cart ($77.38) with late fees and the assessment of $75.00.

Marcia Moermond: The hauler sent an assessment for $75; we're saying you should credit the account because the account was removed last July. That means in Quarter 1, we're looking at a bill that needs to be corrected. Were Quarter 3 and Quarter 4 correct?

Pillsbury: They were not. We removed both of them.

Moermond: They were corrected by staff?

Chris Swanson: Yes. Waste Management was delayed in delivering the cart.

Pillsbury: It is a 2-unit dwelling. They are requesting 2 carts. Waste Management delivered a second cart. They will have 2 carts going forward.

Moermond: Recommend deletion.

Julia Yang is on the phone line.

Clare Pillsbury: $221.35, late fees, hauler is Advanced Disposal. Owner wanted to contest their Quarter 1 2020 assessment. They have verification of payment that they received an e-mail from Rebecca Martinez de la Cotera at Advanced following a call to them regarding this issue. Hauler confirmed that the payment for Quarter 1 2020 was made April 1, which is after the last day to pay the Quarter 1 2020 bill. The payment was applied for the Quarter 2 2020 bill, and the Quarter 1 balance as sent to the City as an assessment; therefore, staff recommends approving the assessment.

Marcia Moermond: She did pay Quarter 1 but it arrived too late. Because of that, the hauler had already sent the bill to the City, but they did get the check and they applied it to the next quarter.

Pillsbury: It was also partially to Quarter 3. Julia had some additional issues. There was a change in service level. Cart was swapped out. Hauler said that occurred on January 16. January 16 to March 30 was reflected in the credit. The 3rd additional issue, she had not received the invoice. All the notices of nonpayment were sent to the correct address, which is the same address as the invoice. It seems it would be an issue with the mail system.

Moermond: Right now, her account with Advanced has been credited and the bills are squared up?

Pillsbury: Yes.

Yang: They wrote me a letter. The first time we saw the letter was a week or two after I paid the $221. Every statement I see that I paid. There is no payment that I have not paid. Two weeks ago, I talked to Advanced. They sent an e-mail that everything was clear. They said I made every payment. I need to pay $70.74 by July 26. I would have paid $442.

Moermond: You're concerned they were double billing you. Staff said they got your payment. They couldn't apply it to Quarter 1, so they applied it to your future bills. They didn't double bill you. It might be helpful if you get information from Advanced for the record. You could confirm with your bank statements.

Yang: I did check with my bank.

Moermond: We're going to ask Advanced if they can give us a record when you made payments so you can look at that. If I was in your shoes and confused about being double charged, I would like a little more explanation. We can break that down so we are all looking at the same information. E-mail address?

Pillsbury: We do.

Moermond: We'll continue this. We'll send you an e-mail with the detailed information about what Advanced has in their records. If you have different information, you can talk to Clare. We'll get some clearer information. If the Council approved a part or whole, it will be for the 2021 taxes. We'll talk on Thursday morning, July 30.

Clare Pillsbury: $66.20, small cart, every other week, Highland Sanitation. Owner says that he does not use the service, never will use the service. He is unwilling to make payments to the city. Staff comments are that all residential properties with up to four units are required to have a garbage cart and receive garbage service. There is no opting out.

Southward: I'm not using the service. I'm not going to use it. I recycle.

Marcia Moermond: You have no garbage whatsoever?

Southward: I get a bag every 6 months. I haven't used the service and not going to use it.

Moermond: Right now, I don't have a way to get you out of the program. They've got you paying the lowest amount that they could. You're not alone. Other people are zero wasters, too. We'll consider this as we negotiate a new contract.

Southward: I have rental property. I have one property that I pay as much as $378. They charge me for extra bags and when it is high.

Moermond: You haven't appealed the bills.

Southward: No, I just raise the rent up and the government pays me more money.

Marcia Moermond: Recommend removal. Registered vacant. Quarter 3 and Quarter 4 also go to assessment. Were they adjusted downward?

Pillsbury: Looks like there is no previous assessment on the account. April and June, I'm planning on removing. We will contact the hauler. It is registered as vacant with the City but not with Ramsey County. The City's vacancy records show it is vacant.

Chris Swanson: This one didn't ping as a vacant. We'll follow up with the hauler, and there are no other lingering charges.

Terry Landroche is on the phone line.

Marcia Moermond: We were going to do some follow-up.

Chris Swanson: We found out there are additional issues on this account. Resident said there was misdelivery: small was delivered instead of medium. It was 2 quarters before it was switched. The intended owner was the neighbor. We are going to recommend reducing to reflect the difference in cart sizes for Quarter 1 and Quarter 2. We're going to remove any late fees in Quarter 1 and Quarter 2 and reduce down to the base fee for that small weekly cart. Our total recommended reduction for Quarter 3 2019 is $94.68. What is left is $15.80.

Moermond: From 110.48 to $15.70, which is the adjustment for cart, late fees, and takes that all off.

Landroche: That is all good. I appreciate the reduction. I have missed pickups since Day 1. They initially blamed it on that I didn't have walk up service. I'd like to find out instead of having it assessed, do I get the opportunity to pay it.

Moermond: Yes. You'll get a letter that shows it was decreased and you can pay them.

Landroche: The other issue is the continual missed pickups.

Moermond: You have to call the hauler. My house has been missed a couple of times, I call, and they come back the next day. There is a financial penalty for them if they do not.

Landroche – In my case, I did that, and they just ignored me. I was told on multiple occasions that someone will get back to you. Until I get a hold of Chris, that was the first time I ever heard anything from the hauler, except for walking down and hand delivering the walkup application. Every time I called for a missed pickup, it was ignored.

Moermond: I don't have information that you called about a missed pickup. I have that you called about the walk-up service. The walk-up has been resolved.

Landroche: It continued after the walk-up service was assigned. They continued to do missed pickups. It wasn't until I talked to Susan.

Moermond: You did put that on the record before.

Chris Swanson: That is always our first recommendation, for people to reach out to the hauler. If you also feel you don't get a good resolution after that phone call, please call us and use us as a resource. Feel free to reach out to me directly. We can make sure that pickup is communicated directly to the hauler.

Moermond: I see also that we have Mr. Landroche's assessment for Quarter 4 and Quarter 1.

Swanson: I don't think we received notices of disputes of those appeals.

Moermond: You have the phone number for missed pickups. We have not received notice of missed pickups in that area.
