Emergency ordinance regulating third-party food delivery platforms during the COVID-19 Emergency.

WHEREAS, the COVID-19 pandemic and resultant local and state emergency regulations and ordinances and orders continue to restrict the operational options and capacities of Food Establishments within the city, thereby increasing the need for take-out meal services; and

WHEREAS, the necessary public health operating restrictions within the city have had severe and ongoing financial impacts on all food service establishments within the city; and

WHEREAS, while some restaurants may receive take-out orders directly, there are many Third-party Food Delivery Platforms and other services that operate through websites and/or mobile phone applications used by consumers to quickly and easily order pick-up and delivery meals from local restaurants; and

WHEREAS, in many instances the Third-party Food Delivery Platforms and services, without the local restaurant's knowledge or consent, will purport to sell meals from the local restaurant to consumers, and sometimes charge exorbitant fees to the already struggling local restaurants during the time of the declared emergency and the operational restrictions attendant thereto; and

WHEREAS, the fees charged by a Third-party Food Delivery Platform should be capped for the period that the local public health emergency results in necessary restrictions on the operations of Food Establishments to avoid further harm to such valuable and important establishments in the city; now, therefore,
