WHEREAS, on August 30, 2005, as lenders for the property acquisition, the HRA and Greater Metropolitan Housing Corporation ("GMHC") executed a parity agreement to protect their indebtedness; and

WHEREAS, upon Sparc's default, the HRA took a deed in lieu of foreclosure for the property with the understanding that any sales proceeds would be subject to the parity agreement; and

WHEREAS, as the HRA intends to write down the cost of the land in an effort to minimize the development subsidy, the HRA obtained an appraisal of the property based on a medium density housing development thereby establishing the parity basis; and

WHEREAS, on August 30, 2013, pursuant to its Policy and Procedures for Disposition of HRA Owned Real Estate (the "Policy"), the HRA, issued a Request for Interest for the now HRA-owned property. After an extensive public process, a proposal submitted by Twin Cities Habitat for Humanity ("Habitat") for an owner-occupied single family development was selected; and

WHEREAS, on April 8, 2015 by Resolution 15-605, Habitat was designated as Tentative Developer for 389-425 West Maryland Avenue until December 31, 2016; and

WHEREAS, Twin Cities Habitat for Humanity has requested financial assistance in the amount of up to $1,700,000 for the project as value gap subsidy and infrastructure construction; and

WHEREAS, the HRA Board determines that there is a public purpose in paying GMHC their parity share of $443,676.68 based on the property's market value and assisting Habitat with project financing for development gap subsidy; and,
