Hello everyone,

Please note that August rents will remain the same as they have been in the past.

The new rent amounts for September will be changing, so sit tight before signing new lease agreements, and if you have already signed and returned, I will be revising them.

With thanks to Mike Smith and his father, I see some errors I made in averaging utilities costs, which will bring full rent amounts down. Base rents will still take an additional 3% (except Mike's which took that increase in January, 2025), and I will revise full rent amounts for each unit based on my revision of utilities.

More to follow by email for September and going forward amounts, and I look forward to receiving regular amounts for August.

Thank you. My apologies for errors.

All best, Robin Doroshow
