LEGISLATIVE HEARING DISCUSSION ITEMS

- 40 RLH RR 23-39 Ordering the rehabilitation or razing and removal of the structures at 621 BIDWELL STREET within one-hundred eighty (180) days after the September 6, 2023, City Council Public Hearing. (Amended to grant 90 days)

Granted 90 days to complete rehabilitation.

Councilmember Noecker: I appreciate my colleagues being willing to give this item a little bit of extra time. We have an amended resolution in front of us that, I think, responds to some of the concerns we heard in testimony. I'll let the Legislative Hearing Officer speak to that.

Marcia Moermond, Legislative Hearing Officer: I want to first update the record and note that there was an additional meeting and notes are in the record about that. It was held with neighbors. There's a summary e-mail from me on it. The meeting with neighbors took place this Monday and there were basically three main areas of conversation. The first subject of conversation was about things that could be addressed by updating the code compliance inspection report. Two items in particular stood out to the neighbors. One was the trees along the driveway have volume and significantly and mesh themselves into the power lines. It's going to be added to the inspection report that the trees have to be trimmed well below the power lines. Second is that a fence has been broken at the back of the property, top to bottom. There's a photo in the record of that. It is evident that the breakage occurred as a result of action from the property that abuts it to the rear. It was not related to this property. Someone came in and pushed it with a bunch of items. That brings us to the second area of conversation: How do we make sure that this kind of thing doesn't happen again in the future? There was outreach to the officer who helped work through the Bidwell property nuisance conditions that have existed over the years. He will be looking at the property on King Street, as well as the fire certificate of occupancy program, just to make sure that things are operating okay there. They have had three appointment letters for inspections over the summer. Those inspections have all been rescheduled at the request of the owner. There were a couple of requests that the neighbors had that weren't related to things that would show up in an inspection report. They had to do with the appearance of the property as it relates to the street, the front in particular. The problem that the neighbors are bringing up is that the garage is a solid front. They want to see if there can be something done when the new garage and service doors are installed to open it up and make it appear more inviting. There's a privacy fence on the right side, and the whole thing creates a fortress-like appearance as it relates to the street, and does lend to the feeling of a lack of safety for someone to be entering into that property. I had a lengthy discussion with the mortgage company representative about this and she will be looking into it. I would note that this property will be transferring to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) upon completion of the rehab. There can be follow up with HUD about addressing these items if they're not addressed by the mortgage company. I wanted you to have that officially updated on the record so that we didn't have any issues with ex parte communication. You have it written in your record and now you have it out loud.

Noecker: Thank you for working on this. I also want to point out that the new resolution grants 90 days as opposed to 180 days for the work to be done. This is to show impatience with getting this done. It sounds like it is a reasonable amount of time to do the work, and I just want to put on the record that I will not be patient with this work continuing beyond 90 days. There's a hard deadline here for this work to be done. I move approval.

Council President Brendmoen: I support that motion.

Councilmember Prince: I'd just like to say that the testimony from neighbors last week was extremely painful. I'm glad it's 90 days, and I'm especially glad that you'll keep focused on it, because we've seen 90 days evaporate.

Public hearing continued for one week.

Marcia Moermond, Legislative Hearing Officer: On screen is an image of the Burger King that is for 455 S Roberts St. That's the time that it entered the registered vacant building program. It did constitute a significant nuisance problem for the neighborhood, which is how we end up talking about the property here. There were many behavioral concerns. Since that photo was taken, the property has been fenced. In the 5 year record of police calls you will see they have dropped off significantly. There haven't been any significant code violations with respect to cleaning up the parking lot. There is of course concern that the problems would re-present. I would note that this is a long term problem property. The Burger King has been closed. We have the nuisance conditions. The inspection and performance deposit have both been taken care of. We know that they are actively marketing the site. There is marketing material in your package that you have in front of you. We are looking for action either for the purchaser to rehab the building and put a new use into it, or for the building to be demolished and have a new use put into the site. The hope is that the owner representative will come forward next week and be able to talk directly with the Council about that. I am asking for a one-week layover with a continuation of the public hearing. From there we could have plans developed one way or the other that would be reviewed in Legislative Hearing, and have it come right back to Council in the beginning of December.

Councilmember Noecker: I move a one-week layover so the applicant can be here.

- 48 RLH VBR 23-54 Appeal of Randall Radunz to a Vacant Building Registration Notice, Revised Notice of Condemnation as Unfit for Human Habitation & Order to Vacate, plus Vehicle Abatement Order at 34 SYCAMORE STREET EAST.

Appeal denied with extension granted to September 15, 2023 to comply with vehicle abatement. Vehicle abatement will be followed up on in Legislative Hearing on Tuesday, September 26, 2023.

Also in attendance: Randall Radunz, appellant

Marcia Moermond, Legislative Hearing Officer: As indicated, there are three items that are being appealed. I will give you the easiest one first. That is the vehicle abatement order in front of you. That is for the removal of four vehicles. Those vehicles are considered to be critical in order to clear other vehicles off the site. You have a picture up on screen right now showing how closely packed the vehicles are. This site, which is approximately 120 feet by 110 feet wide, is residentially zoned. It has a duplex on it and some 60-65 cars as of 2022, and there does not appear to be any significant change. There was a correction originally issued on March 23. The owner indicated that he can have those four vehicles removed by last Friday and I anticipate that has been done and that there will be future vehicle abatement orders if the site is not cleared in pretty short order. The second item is the order to vacate and condemn as unfit for human habitation. That is the duplex that we're talking about. Originally, this came to the Department of Safety and Inspections' (DSI) attention based on a referral, where you have Fire or Emergency Medical Services (EMS) responding to the property for something, and conditions are bad enough that they merit the assistant to the chief sending a form to DSI to indicate conditions. Conditions were described as hoarded and unsafe conditions within the house and an excessive number of vehicles that impeded access to the House. That is what triggered the original correction notice on the vehicles as well as an appointment letter to gain access to inspect the interior of the property. The interior was inspected in August, though in the interim, the property was condemned in July because the electricity was cut for nonpayment. This is kind of an unusual circumstance. DSI was concerned about the electric service within the House. To make sure it was safe, they sent an appointment letter, and then a second appointment letter, to gain access in mid-August. Ultimately, they did gain access. On August 24th, they encountered a property that on the first level is gutted down to the studs and has exposed electrical and other significant problems. There were no permits pulled for the work that was done. There was a building permit pulled by the previous owner back in 2016, but that was for a little bit of roofing and a garage door replacement rounding out at about $2,000. That is not at all what we're looking at here in terms of the interior. I did have a chance to look up another public record that relates to this property, when the current owner purchased it in 2016. A truth and sale of housing report was done on this duplex. Eight hazard items were denoted in this report, with seven of them dealing with electricity within the structure. Other items in the vacate order have to do with supporting walls having been removed from the within the property. You can see an opening in the front entrance that when you look down you can see the basement. The basement is where the furnace, water heater, other kinds of things are that need to have a proper fire separation from sleeping areas in particular. That just doesn't exist here. That is one level of the duplex. The owner does want to continue living in the second level of his duplex for at least another 60 days, believing that part of the building would be safe while the other parts are unsafe. He does, I would say, regret having allowed access to the first level and basement, although he did deny access to the second level. I understand why DSI wrote these orders. Almost everything that you would call out as unfit for human habitation is listed out in this set of orders with an immediate vacate. I did need to put an interim recommendation on the record prior to this getting in front of Council so that there was a decision to act on. My decision for the narrow time period before it came here was to not allow occupancy of the structure. The Council can, of course, change that. The third item in this appeal is the vacant building registration notice resulting from the condemnation order to vacate. The owner would like it not to be a category two registered vacant building and not to be in the vacant building program at all for that matter. Category 2 means you have to get a code compliance inspection. The four trades have to go through the building and they will note things that need to happen to bring it up to minimum safety standards. That is an automatic classification, if you were condemned as unfit for human habitation. I see no reason to deviate from the legislative code in this matter. I would recommend the Council deny the appeal of the vacant building registration.

Randal Radunz: I do know that there's a large amount of vehicles there. I have a new location to move everything. I have went through the last 6 to 8 months with a very serious medical condition. On June 26 of this year, I had my foot amputated because of that condition. The reason that the amount of vehicles increased there is because I had lost a sub-block that we had kept vehicles at. We had three days to put them someplace. They got put there. I became very ill. We were working on removing vehicles from there, finding a new location, which we did while I was in the hospital. There is a man who stays in the house with me. The power got shut off because I did not pay the bill on time. I talked with the inspector. The power was turned back on. I checked the records. It said that the house was compliant. To me that means that the condemnation order was lifted. It only goes to Category 1 when the power shut off. 30 days later I get a letter in the mail that he wants to inspect the property. I responded by saying that I'm an owner occupied duplex and I am not subject to the certificate of occupancy inspection that I assumed that he wanted. Getting back to the vehicle abatement, we had removed 10 to 15 cars. In the last week we removed five more. I got a knock on the back door the day the inspectors came. I opened up the window on the 2nd floor and I said, "Can I help you?" They said, "Randy come down here and open your back door." I said, "I'm in a wheelchair right now, I am recuperating." He said, "Come down and open your back door." So, I very carefully bumped myself down the stairs, got in my wheelchair, and opened the door. They said they needed to come in and inspect the house. I said there was no reason to do that. We argued about it, and then they threatened that things will be tough on me if I didn't let them in. They were already in, standing in the doorway. There was no reason for those people to come knock on my back door and demand access. It's a violation of my 4th Amendment right, I believe. I do understand the laws. I've read the laws. Like I said, I bought a new property. This one is going to be cleaned out and renovated to bring it into compliance. The walls that have been taken out of there, that they said are load supporting, are structural land beams that have been put up in place. The contractor person I hired disappeared on me. He didn't pull permits. So, I'm stuck. I was sick. $60,000 in renovation money is gone. The contractor deed holder was marketing the property for sale. What I'm asking is that the vacate order be lifted. I've got 60 days and it'll be cleaned out and gone and I continue living there. I am living there right now. I've lived there for 6-7 years. I've ran that business out of there. To do this to me now is just going to disrupt things.

Council President Brendmoen: You're over time. You've made your ask, I just want to make sure you're clear with what you're asking us for before we close the public hearing.

Councilmember Balenger moved to close the public hearing. Approved 6-0.

Balenger: I will move the recommendation of the Hearing Officer.

Councilmember Noecker: The deadline for this work in the text is September 15. Since it's now September 20, what are the implications of that?

Moermond: That date was arrived at based on the owner's statement that the vehicles would be gone by then.

Noecker: So denying the appeal on the vehicle abatement order and granting an extension to September 15th on September 20th means they need to be gone?

Moermond: Yes. We would have a follow-up legislative hearing next week to make sure that the nuisance condition had been abated. It would be making a finding. If it had not been abated at that time then you would authorize the vehicles to be removed from the property. The language is still is saying the deadline is in place and is going to have to come back to you again.

Noecker: You could change it to today's date.

Brendmoen: Yeah, but the working date has been September 15th and the car removal process has begun, according to the property owner. We're 15 cars down and 50 to go approximately. That will come back to Legislative Hearing next week for an update. With that in mind, are comfortable with Balenger's motion?

Noecker: Yes. Just wanted to make sure there was time for an update.

Councilmember Prince: The property owner has asked us for a 60 day extension of the vacate order. Can we give him any time on that?

Moermond: There are numerous issues the inspectors found. Plumbing issues, chimney issues, beams, walls. I cannot recommend more time. There's not a system in the house. Not plumbing, not heating, not walls, not electrical. I have nothing.

Prince: Thank you. I just wanted to acknowledge the request so I understand that this is really a hazardous situation.

Brendmoen: Typically with the unfit for human habitation and order to vacate, it's out of concern for safety. I appreciate the clarification, and the pictures are very telling.
