Comments: We are unable to make the listed repairs because the tenant who called in the complaint will not allow maintenance personnel to enter her unit. See attached text exchange. She has also left threatening voicemails with property management and maintenance. We are more than willing to make the repairs, but cannot do so without tenant's cooperation. She has a volatile history, and even city inspectors will not interact with her without police escort, so we cannot ask repair people to continue working with her.
